Yanks in 3-Mi. Tokyo Parade

YOKOHAMA Sept. 7 (AP)—Gen. MacArthur leads a three-mile parade of American militia ry might into the heart of Tokyo Saturday (Friday, U. S. time), and within three days all the capital will be occupied, it was announced today.

Meanwhile these other developments were disclosed:

The 11th Airborne division, first to set foot on enemy soil, now has its entire strength in Japan and troops of the 27th Division have begun arriving.

Formal investigation of war crimes against prisoners of war was launched with the appointment of an "atrocity officer" and enlisted specialists to visit each camp.

An additional 1100 prisoners have been liberated, bringing the total to approximately 9000, half of whom have been liberated

MacArthur's press headquarters said Brig. Gen. Elliott Thorpe would head Allied counter-intelligence and would begin censorship of the Japanese Domei agency simultaneously with the arrival of American troops in Tokyo.

The First Cavalry Division, which will enter Tokyo first, took over the Japanese army school at Hara-Machido, 30 miles northwest of Yokohama.

The parade marking the triumphal entry of MacArthur into Tokyo will begin within sight of Emperor Hirohito's palace.

The battle equipped Seventh and Eighth Regiments of the First Cavalry Division will march through the bomb-shattered capital—the first such march of a conqueror there in Japan's long history.

An honor guard from the Seventh Regiment—the regiment which fought under Custer on the Little Bighorn—will escort MacArthur from the Tokyo railroad station in the Marunouchi business quarter, to the American Embassy, three miles away.

The First Cavalry band will blare martial music as the Supreme Commander of the Allied powers motors past downtown buildings to the embassy, there to raise the same American flag which flew over the White House Dec. 7, 1941.

(Whether MacArthur will proceed by train or car to Marunouchi was not disclosed although car is more probable. A four-lane highway leads from his present headquarters at Yokohama to Marunouchi, the geographical center of Tokyo and logical starting point for any parade.)

The Seventh Regiment will open the occupation of Tokyo.

Jap Plot to Block Hirohito Surrender Rescript Told

By RUSSELL BRINES

TOKYO, Sept. 7 (AP)—Well-informed Japanese sources said today that fanatical young Jap officers on Aug. 14 killed the commanding general of Emperor Hirohito's personal guards division and, by forging his name, sent troops to surround the palace in a vain effort to prevent the imperial surrender announcement from reaching the people.

The finale to the battle over surrender, between the Emperor and certain militarist elements, involved a hot chase after the vital radio recording containing the Emperor's historic capitulation rescript.

Numerous Kamikaze (suicide) pilots dived to death in Tokyo Bay as the result of the surrender and some threatened to kill Japan's surrender envoys to Manila—but there were no further major disorders.

Sources giving this information said the first surrender discussions among the militarists began in February—at the time of the great American carrier raids on Tokyo—and that the Emperor began in March a fruitless effort to obtain capitulation.

Before the surrender actually came, Japan had hinted officially to Russia that she was willing to yield Manchuria and North China in return for continued Soviet neutrality, these sources added, but this failed.

The Emperor's historic rescript of surrender was recorded Aug. 14 at the Imperial Palace in strictest secrecy and was scheduled to be broadcast to the people the next day.

The fanatical young army officers learned of it and a lieutenant colonel and a major hatched a hurried plot to try to prevent its reaching the Tokyo radio. One of them was said, without confirmation, to have been a son-in-law of former War Premier Tojo.

The story continues that they approached Lt. Gen. Mori, commandant of the Imperial Guards Division—the Emperor's troops—at the barracks in Azabu, a 20-minute march from the palace.

They demanded that Mori station his troops around the palace on the pretext of guarding the Emperor, but actually so all outgoing cars could be searched for the recording.

Mori refused and the conspirators killed him on the spot. They then wrote fake orders, to which they forged his name, but some of his subordinates recognized the foregery. Finally, it was declared. Some of the conspirators committed suicide within the Azabu barracks.

Another conspirator drove to the radio station with a squad of men, cornered the radio staff in one room and began a methodical search for the recording.

One station employe eluded the soldiers and telephoned the nearby Eastern Army Command, which sent loyal troops to the scene.

All the while, the recording was still at the imperial palace and was delivered to the radio station only a few moments before the broadcast at noon on Aug. 15.

Miami Airliner Crashes, 22 Die

FLORENCE, S. C., Sept. 7 (INS)—Twenty-two persons were killed early today when an Eastern Air Line passenger plane crashed and burned near here.

Highway patrolmen said that at first it was believed one of the group had escaped death. However, they said a check of bodies revealed that all persons aboard perished.

The plane crashed in a gum tree swamp, patrolmen said, and scattered the bodies over a 100-foot area.

The ship was found 15 miles east of Florence in the Pee Dee river swamp.

Officers who reached the scene said the plane was almost destroyed by fire.

The missing ship was first sighted by an Army search plane. Later a rescue party of Army personnel and highway patrol was dispatched to the scene.

Nineteen passengers, including 10 civilians and nine military personnel and three crewmen, were aboard the ship.

The cause of the tragedy is not yet known.

Michael Shinefield, Miami Beach, Fla.

Leonard F. Cockburn.

W. E. Gray, St. Mary's, Pa.

Mrs. G. G. R. Sharp, of Kingston, Jamaica, en route to Toronto, Canada.

R. Stevenson, son of Mrs. Sharp also enroute to Toronto.

Andres Gerard and Mrs. Gerard, Oscar Figueredo, of Caracas, Venezuela, and Mrs. Figueredo.

W. E. Pierce.

Names of military passengers were withheld.

Capt. Olin King was pilot of the plane. Other crew members were R. A. Kelley, co-pilot, and Gertrude Graham, flight attendant.

Curley Urges China, Russia Police Japan

Asserting the job of policing Japan was not one for the United States alone, but for all the Allied nations, Cong Curley renewed his plea today that arrangements be made to have China and Russia take over the bulk of the occupation duty.

In a similar plea Wednesday before Congress in Washington, Curley argued against the assignment of boys under 21 years of age, many of whom had seen extensive duty in the European theater, to occupation work in Japan.

"The Chinese nation, conducting war against the Japanese with limited resources and little aid until a year ago, have displayed fortitude and courage seldom equalled in world history," Curley said.

"I can imagine no higher degree of poetic justice for those who have suffered most, the Chinese, to do the policing of Japan. With United States forces acting in a supervisory capacity and an army of 500,000 Chinese doing the bulk of the work, it should be possible to release the majority of our men in the Far East.

"Also it should be possible to arrange for assignment of a large force of Russians, who have a natural hatred for the Japanese, to join with the Chinese in an army of whatever size may be deemed necessary.

"I can think of no single act by our government that would meet with more universal approval than the return of boys under 21, who are being assigned to this duty, plus those who already have rendered such exceptional service elsewhere."

British Hunt Mystery Yacht, Hitler Reported Aboard

HAMBURG, Germany, Sept. 7 (AP)—British Security Police have been investigating for six weeks a rumor too strong to ignore that Adolf Hitler and his deputy party fuehrer, Martin Bormann, have been in this area.

Operatives traced a mysterious mahogany luxury yacht from Hamburg to the small Elbe estuary port of Glueckstadt, 30 miles from Hamburg.

At Glueckstadt they were told by dockhands that the 90-ton diesel-powered yacht left there one night in early May. For several weeks equipment, including two radio transmitters, had been taken aboard.

Dozens of inlets and islands up the Schleswig-Holstein coast were combed without result, but the search continues.

Dracut Case Sailor Free, Calls Fiancee

Sailor Alphee Norman Desmarais walked out of Lowell district court today, a free man absolved of all connection with the slaying of Mrs. Mary George Saunders, 20, whose body was found last month in a Dracut woodland, and he hurried at once to the bedside of his ailing mother.

The 22-year-old Nashua youth, a veteran of Pacific battle action, was brought to the court from East Cambridge jail and the murder charge against him was dismissed by Judge Richard B. Walsh as a result of the refusal of the Middlesex grand jury to indict him on the charge yesterday.

"Gee, it's great to be free again," he said happily. "The first thing I want to do is to see my ma and then I want to call Eleanor."

Eleanor is WAVE Eleanor Dausch, the 22-year-old Nashua, N. H., girl to whom he became engaged a few weeks before his arrest on the murder charge. Throughout his ordeal she has stood by him, corresponding with him frequently and insisting on his innocence.

As young Desmarais stepped from the courtroom with his attorney, Edward Viola, shore patrolmen ushered him to a waiting Navy car and drove him to his mother's summer home in nearby Tyngsboro.

As he stepped from the car, he was given a noisy welcome by his pet dog "Duke." He paused briefly to pet the dog then rushed into the house with a joyful shout and embraced his mother as she wept with happiness.

"It's so wonderful to see you," she cried. "I prayed for you every day and night. I couldn't eat or sleep. I knew you were innocent."

"Everything's all right now, Ma," he said happily. "When a guy tells the truth they can't do much to him."

"I'm so glad you're back,' she murmured. "I knew you couldn't have done that. You were always a good boy."

Mother and son embraced happily again, and then the youth seized the telephone and put in a long-distance call to his sweetheart at Indianhead, Md., where she is stationed.

"Her parents called me up last night and told me how thrilled they were at the good news," the mother confided as her son waited impatiently for the call to get through.

Finally the call was completed and young Desmarais talked happily to his WAVE fiancee.

"She can't get a furlough right away," he said as he returned from the telephone. "I'm going to try and get down to see her as soon as I can. I've got to get straightened out with the Navy first."

He explained that he would leave his home for the Fargo barracks in Boston, where he would be restored to duty with the Navy

THIS WAS JUST A GAG

September 5, 1945

Dear Mr. Jodoin:

Would you kindly report at City Hall to Register at the Draft Board as you are now of the age to be inducted.

Sincerely yours,

FACSIMILE OF CARD RECEIVED BY GENE JODOIN
Signature Not That of Malden Mayor

GENE JODOIN, 18, OF MALDEN
Somebody Was Playing a Joke

Good Gag, but Miss Gene Too Pretty for Army Draft

It's shame to spoil a good story—and we're not going to spoil it—but 18-year-old Gene Blanchard Jodoin of Malden just isn't Government Issue—she's much too pretty.

But for a short while today it looked as if Gene was all signed up for the Army until Mayor John D. McCarthy explained somebody was just having fun.

Gene, who is about the prettiest gal you would see in a week of travels, received that customary notice from selective service. She received at her Home st., Maplewood, residence the usual request to report for induction.

All her life the name of Gene has confused folks, so she wasn't terribly worried. Nevertheless, it all looked so official she decided to trot down to City Hall.

The notice read as follows: "Dear Mr. Jodoin: Would you kindly report at City Hall to register at the Draft Board as you are now of age to be inducted."

Things began to happen fast, however, long before Gene arrived.

Mayor McCarthy's secretary took a peek at the notice and stated flatly it was not his signature. Still others recalled that the mayor has nothing to do with the draft board and that inductees, and even registrants, don't report at City Hall. The proper place is the Malden court house.

But Mayor McCarthy isn't one to spoil a good gag—even as you and I—so he said that if Gene wanted to register it was all right with him.

The young lady, who has the softest and most silken brunette hair imaginable, solved the problem in her own way.

She had her say and then went off to work. She just finished high school last year and has a real nice job, much too good to give up even for the Army.

Gene flashed her prettiest smile for reporters and photographers and gave the best explanation she could. She thinks some of her friends at City Hall are having a bit of fun with her.

She broke down and confessed she's been getting male's mail ever since she reached the teenage stage, but she hopes this latest letter will end the misunderstanding forever.

Gene, oldest of the three daughters of Mr. and Mrs. Watson Jodoin was born in Malden Sept. 3, 1927. But doctors were busy back in those days and it wasn't until the following November that the physician who had attended at her birth got around to registering her at City Hall. Not recalling her sex at the moment, and misled by the masculinity of her name, the doctor recorded her as a boy.

That started it. The local paper announced her worldly arrival with an item that "a son was born" to her parents.

In grammar school at the start of each term, she had to read a list of boys' names to find out her home room. That's where she was registered.

When she finished Malden High School last June, Miss Jodoin's diploma read that "he" was being awarded this scroll because "he" had successfully completed the course. All this amused her sisters, Doris, 15, and Grace, 13.

Then came mail from boys' preparatory schools and from colleges that definitely were not co-educational, that told of marvelous opportunities in football, baseball and track.

700-Lb. Wool Bale Fells 2 Women, Baby

A mother, grandmother and baby were injured, the women critically, when a 700-pound bale of waste wool from a toppling truckload struck them as they were going along River st., near Fremont st., Mattapan, this afternoon.

Mrs. Ellen Ryan, 24, Morton st., Dorchester, suffered a skull fracture. Her mother, Mrs. Catherine O'Neil, 63, has a skull fracture. Both are on the danger list. Mrs. Ryan's year-old baby, Joel, suffered from consuccion.

All were taken to City Hospital.

Police said the load of wool, comprising 43 of the big bales, fell from a truck owned by the R. S. Brine Transportation Co., First st., South Boston. The operator, who was not injured, was identified as Eugene Curtis of Dorchester ave., Dorchester.

One-Way Traffic On Tremont St.

Seeking to relieve traffic congestion in downtown Boston, Mayor Kerrigan today ordered one-way southbound traffic on Tremont st., from Scollay sq. to Broadway inthe South End.

He also ordered the present one-way northbound traffic on Washington st. to start at Dover st. instead of Kneeland st. and continue to Adams sq.

The plan will go into effect at 7 a.m. Sept. 13 and continue for 30 days onan experimental basis, Kerrigan said.

He issued the orders on the suggestion of the traffic commission which he summoned into emergency session today to consider the congestion problem.

Marblehead Grid Team Quarantined by Polio

Discovery Gilbert Bray, 15-year-old first-string back on the Marblehead High School football team, had been stricken with infantile paralysis, caused the entire squad to be placed under two weeks' quarantine today. Bray, son of Mr. and Mrs. William Bray, Emerald st., Marblehead, became ill Wednesday night and his ailment was diagnosed last night by Dr. Stanford W. Hopkins, team physician.

In imposing the quarantine, Dr. Hopkins also ordered cancellation of the team's opening game with Peabody High School, Saturday, Sept. 15.

The quarantine affects only members of the football squad and the high school remains open.

The squad has been in training since last Aug. 21, holding daily workouts and eating at a training table in the school cafeteria.

Under the quarantine, the squad will continue its workouts but will not be permitted to enter the school building. Members of the squad will keep their equipment at home and wear it to and from practice sessions.

Dr. Hopkins emphasized the quarantine had been imposed as a precautionary measure and that there was no indication any other member of the squad had been affected.

He said there had been one or two isolated cases of the ailment in the town.

PLENTIFUL NOW—Capons—hundreds of them—are in the market this week-end and two choice birds are held up by George Semonovich. All along the line meats are becoming more plentiful and marketmen report that the situation should continue to improve. INP by Bill Jones

Meat-Laden Counters Bring Housewives Joy

Chickens, beef roasts and even lamb chops were piled in good quantity on counters of down-town markets today. Food shoppers who made the usual weekly trip in town for Sunday's dinner found that instead of having to form in block-long lines they could take their pick of stores in the Faneuil Hall district in which to do their marketing as the majority were well stocked on many items.

"Wow"—shouted one shopper as she bought a pot roast, a capon and a leg of lamb—"Not only are meats back but the clerks even smile at you and say 'Good morning, Miss.'"

For the first time in two years there were many cuts of steak at most of the stores but largely of the sirloin and rump types. The choicest, such as tenderloins and porterhouse, are still missing.

Beef for roasts was very plentiful but mostly of the pot roast type.

Chickens were even more plentiful than the beef—some counters were piled high and customers could buy as many as they liked at the current ceiling price, 48 cents a pound. Capons sold at 52 cents a pound.

But still missing from the market are fresh pork, hams and bacon. Vegetables and fruits are abundant as are eggs, butter, milk and cream.

Suburban stores also have a better stock of fresh beef and chickens than they have had since the start of the war but they, too, are short of pork, hams and bacons.

Dr. Merriman Of Harvard Dies at 69

Roger Bigelow Merriman, 69, Harvard professor of history and political science, died today at St. Andrews-by-the-Sea, New Brunswick, university officials announced.

Dr. Merriman

Known to generations of Harvard students, he had been a member of the faculty since 1902. He gained international fame with his four volumes on "The Rise of the Spanish Empire."

A graduate of Harvard in 1896, he studied at Balliol College, Oxford. He received a doctor of philosophy degree from Harvard in 1902.

One of his most famous pupils was the late President Franklin D. Roosevelt.

During World War I he served in the Army as a captain in the Ordnance Department.

He leaves his widow; two sons, Lt. Roger B. Merriman, Jr., USNR, in the Aleutians, and Daniel, assistant biology professor at Yale, and two daughters, Mrs. Mason Fernald and Mrs. Ethan A. H. Sims.

Funeral services will be held at King's Chapel, Boston.

Funeral services for Deputy Sheriff James A. Brickley, who was attached to the Suffolk County courthouse for more than 25 years, will be held tomorrow with a high mass of requiem in the Church of Our Lady of Victories, Isabella st., Back Bay, at 9.

Deputy Sheriff Brickley, who died Wednesday, was a brother of Medical Examiner William J. Brickley of the Suffolk northern district. Also surviving are his wife, Mrs. Catherine Dolan Brickley of Allston st., West End, and a sister, Mrs. Catherine Ney of Dorchester.

Cambridge Fire Burns Three

Three employes were burned and a dozen others driven out today when a flash fire swept the plant of the Lincoln Mfg. Co., rubberized clothmakers, of Dock st., Cambridge.

The victims, burned on the face, hands and arms, were Paul Hazelman, 34, of Everton st., Dorchester; Robert Paschel, 36, of Clinton st., Cambridge, and Clement Mederios, 38, of Fuller st., Dorchester.

They were taken to Cambridge City Hospital by a fellow worker, John Gilligan of Washington st., Malden.

The fire, a brief blaze of gas and fumes, was quickly extinguished by the sprinkler system. Officials gave no damage estimate.

1321 Veterans Reach Hub on 3 Transports

Three more transports, carrying a total of 1321 men, including 123 New Englanders, docked here today, one bringing 1243 soldiers who had spent their entire wartime service in Newfoundland.

The veterans of Newfoundland service arrived on the S. S. Claymount Victory at Commonwealth Pier, most of them unenthusiastic about the circumstances that prevented them from seeing action. Many had spent three years in Newfoundland as members of Coast Artillery units.

"Nothing ever happened," one of them summed it up.

The two other ships, which docked at Castle Island, were the S. S. John W. Garrett, bearing 29 men, and the S. S. Jacob S. Fassett, with 49 men, none of them New Englanders. The transports were from Europe.

Among the Greater Boston men returned from Newfoundland was Cpl. V. H. Pedersen of Altheus rd., Roslindale, away from home a year, who was elated at the prospect of reunion with the bride he married just before leaving. She is the former Marjorie White of Roslindale.

T-Sgt. Stanislaus J. Burrows, 28, of Mattakeeset st., Mattapan, was eager to see his four-months-old baby boy, Adam, for the first time, and to be with his wife, Lorraine, and Toni, a daughter two years old.

Summing up the reaction of his comrades with, "Nothing ever happened," was T5 Michael A. Smith, 30, of Myopia rd., Hyde Park, member of a finance detachment.

A veteran of 31 months in Newfoundland was PFC Salvatore Corea, Williams st., Chelsea, member of the 470th Infantry.

Hub World Airport To Be Ready Nov. 1

Boston's "International Airport of the Future" will be ready for trans-Atlantic air travel by Nov. 1—just as soon as three American air line companies can hope to start their long-awaited commercial trips around the world.

This was the promise today of Herman A. MacDonald, Massachusetts public works commmissioner, in answer to fears by contending companies that the Hub's big projected air field will not be ready before the lines are prepared to inaugurate service some six or eight weeks hence.

MacDonald's announcement came after an Associated Press story of Washington had outlined the plans of the three major companies for trans-Atlantic travel.

The companies ready to begin commercial flights over the North Atlantic are the Transcontinental & Western Air, Pan American Airways and the American Export lines.

TWA announced at Boston today that they hope to make the Boston airport—200 miles nearer Europe than any other East Coast port—a major base of postwar air travel.

The single hitch is rapid completion of the big project of fitting the local airport to meet the needs of the skyliners of the future.

Officials of this line declared they have been assigned the necessary four-engined planes from military surpluses and will begin flights just as soon as details have been arranged on routes. Some already have been certified.

There is, however, much yet to be done on all three lines in the matter of landing and transit rights within some countries.

TWA now has jumping-off spots at Boston, New York, Philadelphia and Washington. Their route goes through all Europe, into the Middle East and ends at Bombay, India.

All three lines probably will fly to Europe by way of Newfoundland.

TWA's route goes to Newfoundland and Foynes, Eire; then to Paris, where negotiations remain to be completed; to Switzerland, where we have landing rights; Rome, where an interim agreement should be easy; to Greece, Egypt, Palestine, Iraq and Saudi Arabia, in all of which negotiations must be completed. For other segments of the TWA route, negotiations will be necessary in Portugal and French North Africa.

In assuring Boston of a fair break in the future air travel, W. Nelson Bump, regional vice-president of American Airways, said today:

"American is making every arrangement to have the first U. S. to Europe flight made from the airport here in Boston."

Veterans Return to High School Classes in Medford. Discuss Future With Headmaster

Battle Scarred GIs Back in High School

The first GI's are back in high schools which opened early in the suburbs. At every high there are from one to six young men who, although not old enough to vote, have been through experiences they'd rather forget as they struggle with Latin, algebra and biology.

Lads who were wounded at Cassino, went through the hell of the Ardennes offensive or crossed the Rhine are now sitting behind desks too small for them, trying hard to make up for lost time in their studies.

Most of them feel more lonely than they ever did when they were face to face with death on a battlefield.

"It's wonderful to get a chance to start over again, but after having been with older men for so long it seems strange to be back at school," explained ex-PFC John Mahoney, Jr., of Fifield ct., Medford, who has the right to wear two Purple Hearts but keeps his ribbons tucked away at home.

Wounded twice in the battle for Anzio and Cassino, John fought through most of the Italian campaign with the 34th Infantry Division. He went overseas in March, 1944, then after spending 13 months in hospitals here and abroad was given his discharge July 23.

He's now a senior at Medford High so he can get enough credits to go to college.

Engaged to Lois Lyons of Keith rd., Medford, he's resigned to the fact that their marriage must wait a long time while he finishes his interrupted education.

At Malden High, Edward J. Thomson, 18, of Granville ave., Malden, also an ex-PFC, is trying to adjust himself to school atmosphere after having gone through the battles for the Ardennes and the Rhine.

He fibbed about his age, enlisted and served in the Army a year and a half before they discovered his subterfuge. By that time he had been overseas and had three battle stars.

He fought through France, Holland and Belgium with the 83d Infantry which was in every European battle.

Discharged Aug. 12, he appeared for classes yesterday and is trying to pick up his studies where he left off, but he finds it much harder to adjust himself to the light-heartedness of high school life than to the discipline of the battlefield.

A large number of these ex-service men returning to high school are youngsters who adlibbed about their age to get in, such as ex-Hospital Apprentice Charles K. Burton, USCG, 17, and ex-Seaman-Gunner Guy DeFronzo, USCG, also 17, who returned to Medford High yesterday.

DeFronzo was on a troop transport headed for the South Pacific when authorities discovered his right age. All the other gunners in his crew never came back—they were killed when the ship was torpedoed.

Now he's back at school as a sophomore and must do double time in his studies to make up lost credits.

Indict 2 Quincy Cops in Break

Two suspended Quincy police officers, Ralph T. Moreau, 44, and William McAuliffe, 30, were indicted by the Norfolk County grand jury today on charges of breaking and entering a West Quincy cafe and larceny of liquor.

The two officers allegedly were trapped by superiors, who maintained a two-night vigil in the cafe as a result of complaints liquor stocks were disappearing.

Moreau was indicted on four counts of breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny. McAuliffe was named in two counts of breaking and entering and larceny and one of breaking and entering with intent to commit larceny.

Harry "Doc Jasper" Sagansky of Brookline, onetime operator of a $90,000,000 lottery ring, will be released from Norfolk Prison Colony Sept. 17, after serving two and one-half years on gambling and conspiracy charges, it was learned today.

Sentenced on March 18, 1943, he will be eligible for parole on that date. He recently paid a $5000 finei mposed for alleged conspiracy, thus clearing the way for his release.

Lipsey was edged to the roadside in lonely Pine st., Walpole, and handed over his money when the men drew guns and ordered: "Give us your dough."

One of the men then drove off with the truck while the other followed in the bandit car.

LLANGOLLEN, North Wales, Sept. 7 (AP)—Between $400,000 and $800,000 in bank notes burned today when a mail and newspaper train plunged 40 feet into a chasm

5 Hurt, 52 Flee Fire in E. Boston

Five persons were hospitalized and 52 tenants forced to flee today when a three-alarm fire of undetermined origin swept a four-story apartment house at 68 and 70 Chelsea st., East Boston, causing damage estimated at more than $25,000.

Taken to City Hospital were:

McGRATH, Fireman Raul, Frankfort st., East Boston, member of Ladder 31, fractured left ankle.

ALTIERI, Mrs. Adeline, 45, multiple burns on face, arms and hands.

ALTIERI, Miss Julia, 13, her daughter, body burns.

MELLONI, Anthony, 47, an invalid, smoke inhalation.

D'APOLITO, Pasquale, 34, smoke inhalation.

Mrs. Altieri was burned when she fled down a flaming rear stairway from the third floor. Her son, Louis, 21, carried his sister Julia to safety through the flame-filled hallways.

Most of the occupants were asleep when the fire was discovered and many had to be forcibly removed, police reported.

One of those aided to the street was Mrs. Celia Olivero, 51, who is totally blind.

Firemen credited the timely arrival of Anthony Gravellese of Maverick st., a milkman, and his helper, James Muse, of Chelsea st., with saving many lives. The pair discovered the fire and roused most of the tenants.

As soon as apparatus reached the scene, fire officials ordered 12 families evacuated from adjoining wooden buildings. They strung hose lines to the roofs of these houses to battle flames which threatened to burst through the roof of the fired block.

Among those rescued from the third floor at 70 Chelsea st. were the family of Rocco D'Apolito—Rocco, 56; his son, Pasquale, 34; Phyllis, 17; Raymond, 15, and Jean, 12.

From the second floor, the family of Mr. and Mrs. Angelo DiMonte was rescued. Members included Jean, 21; Anna, 18; George, 16; Antoinetta, 15; Gloria, 13; Lena, 12; Marie, 8; Rose, 7; Anthony, 2.

From apartments upstairs over the Altieri home, Mr. and Mrs. Harry Colangelo made their way to safety with their daughters, Josie, 26; Mary, 18, and Jean, 2, and their son, John, 15.

Mr. and Mrs. Philip Lamonica and their son, Anthony, 3, and daughters, Tira, 2, and Yolanda, 1, escaped to the street from their second-floor home.

Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Fiore, their daughters, Mary, 24; Theresa, 22; Olympia, 20; Dorothy, 19; Lillian, 16, and Janette, 9, and son, Anthony, Jr., 13, escaped from their fourth-floor apartment at 70 Chelsea st.

Others who fled to safety in their night clothes were Mr. and Mrs. Fred DiFore, their son, Patsy, 22, and their two daughters, Mary, 19, and Phylis, 13; Mr. and Mrs. Anthony Melone, and their four sons, Michael, 16, Vincent, 12, Salvi, 4, and Anthony, Jr., 20.

INP by Frank Turner

Over 100,000 Idle in U. S. Labor Dispute

By Associated Press

A wave of labor disputes idled more than 100,000 workers today, one of the largest totals on the nation's strike list this summer.

Fro ma low of around 30,000 in mid-August, the strike total has fluctuated between that figure and 50,000, but New York stoppages in the last few days pushed today the number to the highest since late in July.

Detroit's automobile industry was the hardest hit, approximately 40,000 workers being off their jobs. In scattered sections of the country strikes and walkouts curtailed or halted production in at least 30 industries.

Any immediate hope of reducing the number idle in Detroit faded last night as striking employes of Kelsey-Hayes Wheel Co. voted to continue a 15-day strike which has halted car and tractor production at Ford Motor Co. plants.

The Ford Co. announced all its passenger car and truck production in eight cities was halted —idling more than 30,000 workers—because of the strike.

A Ford spokesman said truck and passenger car production had been closed down "100 per cent" in Detroit and Highland Park, Mich., as well as at plants in Buffalo, N. Y.; Chester, Pa.; Dallas, Louisville, Edgewater, N. J., and Richmond, Cal.

The CIO United Automobile Workers at the Kelsey-Hayes plant where 4500 are off their jobs in a dispute over discharge of three employes, voted 1036 to 262 to remain away.

A complete shutdown at the B. F. Goodrich Co. plant in Akron, O., idling 15,000, was expected after 2000 CIO United Rubber workers voted to stage a walkout.

In Pittsburgh men and women "white collar" workers at 10 plants and four offices of Westinghouse Electric Corp. yesterday, by a vote of 8320 to 451, favored a strike to enforce demands for a bonus and incentive pay rates.

The National Labor Relations Board in Seattle said Northwest and Willamette Valley councils of the AFL Lumber and Sawmill Workers' Union voted strike action, 12,754 to 2818.

No-Strike Pledge Ended, Green Says

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (INS) —William Green, president of the AFL, today in effect rejected President Truman's appeal for a continuation of labor's "no strike" pledge.

"The no-strike pledge ended with termination of the war with Japan," Green told reporters as he left a conference with the Chief Executive.

He pointed out he could not continue the no-strike policy as he did not have authority to do so from the national unions which make up the AFL.

Green said, however, he had called upon his unions to "exercise restraint and patience and avoid conflicts."

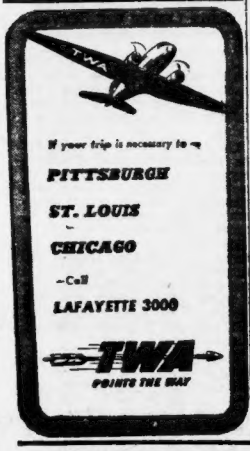
Jewish Sacred Holidays Start at Sundown Today

Beginning at sundown today and continuing until sunset Sunday, Jews throughout Greater Boston will observe Rosh Hashanah, the Jewish New Year 5706, Jewery's most sacred holiday.

In synagogues and temples, special services will be held with prayers of thanksgiving for victory and for guidance in the task of maintaining lasting world peace.

Coinciding with the New Year observance, Rosh Hashanah marks the opening of a nationwide campaign in behalf of the United Jewish Appeal for Refugees, Overseas Needs and Palestine.

The New Year will be ushered in by the blowing of the shofar, or ram's horn, at sunset, as a call to all Jews to repent. There will be special military services for Greater Boston servicemen of Jewish faith in New England Mutual Hall under auspices of the Boston Army and Navy Committee of the Jewish Welfare Board.



52 P. C. of U. S. Sets Church-Going Record

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (AP)—Church membership in the United States has reached an all-time high of 72,492,669, more than 52 per cent of the population, according to the 1945 edition of the yearbook of American churches. The figure represents a gain of 3,991,483 in two years.

Two Mistakes

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Secret Service reported the Army had uncovered an "awful" job of counterfeiting $50 Federal Reserve notes in Milan, Italy.

The bills bore the words "redeemable in awful currency of the United States Treasury."

Menace of Drifting Pacific Mines Cited

EN ROUTE TO KOREA WITH SEVENTH FLEET, Sept. 8 (delayed) (AP)—Naval observers with this fleet say drifting Jap mines, ripped from their moorings by typhoons, are likely to endanger shipping in the Far Western Pacific for months or even years.

They termed the floating mines a far greater peacetime menace than any wind-carried stratosphere balloon bombs which may remain undiscovered in western North America.

Cambridge Will Dynamite Fire

When water can't put out a fire, it's time to use dynamite, Cambridge city officials decided today.

The fire in question is burning to a depth of 40 feet under the surface of the city dump at Concord ave. and Smith pl. Firemen, battling it futilely for several days, have lost 450 feet of hose to the flames. One pump was in action 160 consecutive hours without results.

So it will be dynamite, William R. McMenimen, superintendent of streets, announced.

President to Attend Ball Game Saturday

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP) —President Truman tomorrow will attend his first major league baseball game since he became chief executive.

Clark Griffith, owner of the Washington Senators, announced today, the White House had informed him Mr. Truman would be in the Presidential box for the final game of the Washington-St. Louis series.

Club Leader Heads Hub GI Wives Center

Abp. Cushing today announced appointment of Mrs. Ella T. McCarthy, Boston club leader and mother of two servicemen, as director of the Boston Center for Servicemen's Wives and Mothers which will open soon.

MRS. ELLA T. McCARTHY
Heads Servicemen's Wives Club

It was for the benefit of this Center that the Boston Record-American-Sunday Advertiser presented the Eddie Cantor All Star Show at the Boston Garden last spring.

The Center, to be operated by the National Catholic Community Service of the Archiocese of Boston, will offer a haven and information service to servicemen's women folk of all races, creeds and colors.

Mrs. McCarthy is the widow of Walter V. McCarthy, former director of the Boston public welfare dept. and state commissioner of public welfare. For the past two years, she was director of a USO club for WAC personnel at Chattanooga.

Educated in the Boston schools, Mrs. McCarthy was active in Catholic club work during her years of residence here. She was contralto soloist at St. James' Church, also at St. Stephen's and St. Mary's in the North End, and St. Joseph's Church in Orient Heights.

In 1939, she served as associate director of the Boston census. She headed the women's division of the Infantile Paralysis Fund, and was a member of the Massachusetts Committee at the New York World's Fair.

Her club affiliations include Massachusetts Catholic Order of Foresters, Business and Professional Women's Club and the Massachusetts Civil League.

The Boston Center will play an important part in welcoming and aiding wives and mothers who come here to greet their menfolk returning from Europe's battle fronts.

Undertaker Again In Court Tangle

Isadore Kaplan of Blue Hill ave., Dorchester, who already has filed a $10,000 alienation of affections suit against Barney Schlossberg, Mattapan undertaker, obtained a temporary restraining order in Suffolk Superior Court today to prevent him from disposing of a house, hearse and sedan.

Judge Lewis Goldberg issued the order against Schlossberg, his daughter, Jessie Sandofsky, and Charles Boogusch after Kaplan charged the three had conspired to hinder him in obtaining satisfaction.

Kaplan alleged Schlossberg had conveyed a house in Blue Hill ave., Mattapan, to his daughter and the hearse and sedan to Boogusch fraudulently last July.

The case is returnable Sept. 13.

Kaplan alleged Schlossberg had alienated the affections of his wife, Bessie, and that last June 27 the couple was in court on a morals charge and the case was placed on file.

Yanks Hold Spotlight in Berlin March

By SAM WAAGENAAR

BERLIN, Sept. 7 (INS)—Gen. Patton took the salute from U. S. forces in Berlin today during the official celebration of V-J Day in the German capital.

A V-J Day parade was held along the Charlottenburger chausses, with the 82d Airborne Division and 16th Cavalry representing the U. S. Army at the head of the marching forces of the four Allied nations. The parade gave a mighty demonstration of Allied might.

Starting from the Brandenburg Gate, the infantry, followed by tanks, went around the lonely German Victory Column, last symbol of the now extinct German power.

Gen. Patton was on the reviewing stand with Marshal Zhukov of Russia, British Lt. Gen. Sir Bryan Robertson and French Gen. Koeltz. All seemed pleased by the impressive show.

Six members of the U. S. congressional committee who arrived in Berlin last night declared the parade was a "great show."

The 82nd, wearing white silk scarves and fully equipped, held up the splendid record of this parachute outfit perfectly.

Sixty-eight Russian 50-ton Stalin tanks moved up noisily in close formation.

The Germans standing along the parade route seemed to regret this was not a Reich show.

The populace showed as little interest today in the victory over the Japs as they did when news of the surrender was announced.

Girl in Nude Death Leap Judged Insane

LONDON, Sept. 7 (INS) — A coroner's verdict declared today that Sonia Araquistain, Spanish diplomat's daughter who leaped from the roof of a London apartment house, "committed suicide while the balance of her mind was disturbed."

The former ambassador to Berlin and Paris, father of the 23-year-old girl whose nude body crashed into a London street last Monday, testified she appeared "absolutely mad" a few hours before the tragedy.

Potsdam Area Also To Seize Nazi Estates

BERLIN, Sept. 7 (AP)—Russian-occupied Brandenburg province, which centers around Potsdam, today followed Saxony in decreeing the expropriation of the estates of large landholders, Nazis and war criminals for redistribution to small farmers and peasants.

A notice in Berliner Zeitung, organ of the Berlin city administration, announced the action.

.. Mail Trouble

SALT LAKE CITY, Sept. 7 (AP)—Note to wives and sweethearts of GI's stationed in Belgium:

If the family mail box has had a "mother hubbard-like" look for lo, these many weeks, don't blame "him"—yet.

Yesterday Mrs. Robert H. Balloch, of Salt Lake City, said her lieutenant husband made the discovery just recently that his Belgian office boy had neglected to mail the entire camp's mail for three months.

63d, 103d Due Home Soon

PARIS, Sept. 7 (AP)—A number of large U. S. Army units, including the 63d and 103d infantry Divisions and the 6th Armored division, have been alerted for shipment home from France within the next few days.

The Sixth and the 103rd are scheduled to leave Le Havre between Sept. 8-11 directly for a U. S. port, while the 63rd is waiting at Le Havre for transfer to Britain and then shipment home.

The 17th Airborne Division sails from Marseille today, and the 14th Armored is due to leave from the same port Monday.

The 70th Infantry and Ninth Armored Divisions are gathering at assembly areas for transfer to the United States. The Fifth Armored has been ordered to a port of embarkation about Sept. 13.

Also alerted, but with no estimated dates, are the 99th and Eighth, 10th and 16th Armored 106th Infantry, and the Seventh, Divisions.

Nipped Waist, Knee Skirts Feature Paris Style Show

By CYNTHIA LOWRY

PARIS, Sept. 7 (AP)—The Paris houses of fashion, resuming operations in the face of innumerable difficulties and with little prospect of immediate financial return, are already turning out models of a type which made this city the world's style center.

Designers Jean Patou and Lanvin gave Paris its first postwar fashion show this week. American spectators were impressed by the magnificent textiles the French government permitted dressmakers to obtain.

The finest woolens, silks, velvets and furs went into the garments.

There was an indefinable manner of cutting and molding the clothes which gave them the unmistakable mark of Paris. There was fit. There was almost unfailing good taste.

Both Patou and Lanvin are showing tight-waisted dresses. Most coats are belted tight, and both houses are keeping the street dress at low knee length.

Patou was interested particularly in the use of material, utilizing pleats—pressed and unpressed—in all possible ways. Sometimes he puts them at the back, other times in the front or on the side.

Lanvin, known for his dramatic theatrical designs, continued in character. Almost all his afternoon, dinner and evening dresses sparkle with paillettes, jet, gold and silver, often on appliqued silk of various colors. Lanvin went along with the tight waist but he stressed draped, full skirts in floor length for formal clothes.

Both houses made considerable use of fur as a decoration. Lanvin's favorite trick this season is the use of fur epaulets of silver fox or other longhaired animals running along the sleeve line and over the shoulders fore to aft.

They are mixing colors as skillfully as an artist on his palette but the show also is studded with the smartest, sophisticated black dresses where the line is all important.

DIES ON 87TH BIRTHDAY

LACONIA, N. H., Sept. 7 (AP)—Miss Mariana Cogswell, retired member of the faculty of Wellesley College, died at Laconia Hospital yesterday on her 87th birthday.

Limbless GI Numb With Joy Over His Gift of $100,000

ATLANTIC CITY, N. J., Sept. 7 (AP)—PFC Jimmy Wilson, the young GI who lost both arms and both legs in a plane crash, sat dazed and silent when he learned admiring Americans contributed $100,443 to guarantee his future.

He remained motionless in his wheelchair, unable to speak. The stumps of his hands twitched as he lit a cigaret with artificial limbs. Then he shook his head in bewilderment.

"I still can't believe it," the Stark, Fla., soldier said. "I reckon a fellow never finds out how wonderful people are until something like this happens."

"It's still like a dream to Jimmy," said Thomas D. Taggart, Jr., former Atlantic City mayor who volunteered his services as PFC Wilson's legal counsel. "I can't blame him for not knowing what to say."

The fund, raised through voluntary contributions in a coast-to-coast newspaper solicitation, will be temporarily placed in government securities until a suitable trust can be arranged to guarantee Jimmy a steady life income, Taggart asserted.

And none of the money, it was reported, will ever be subject to income or gift taxes. The 20-year-old crippled flier will receive every cent that a kind-hearted America gave to endow his welfare.

How the love of a girl war worker instilled courage into PFC James Wilson after he lost both arms and legs in the crash of a bomber against a Vermont mountain is one of the outstanding stories of the war.

Pretty Betty Koslovski, 20, of North Wilbraham, employed at the American Bosch Co. plant in Springfield, wrote him constantly and visited him at the England General Hospital, Atlantic City, N. J.

"If it hadn't been for Betty, I don't think I could have pulled through," Jimmy said. "She has been my inspiration."

"Smart Set Functions," by Betty Alden, daily in the Boston American.

MGREDS DEMOBILIZED

MGW, Sept. 7 (AP)—The presidium of the Supreme Soviet today ordered demobilization of 13 class groups serving with Red army forces in the Far East. Demobilization of 13 older classes serving in the west had been ordered June 23.

Overpass Crash Fatal to Girl, 18

Miss Barbara Hughes, 18, daughter of Fire Capt. William A. S. Hughes of Wyman st., Jamaica Plain, died early today at City Hospital from injuries suffered when the auto in which she was riding crashed on the Jamaicaway overpass at Huntington ave.

In critical condition at the hospital is Arthur F. O'Brien, 23, of Belmont ter., Jamaica Plain, who, police said, was operating the car when it struck the railing and concrete supports and overturned.

Miss Hughes was hurled 25 feet, suffering fractures of the skull, ribs and spine. She died after receiving the last rites of the Catholic Church.

Chinese to Take Over in Nanking

NANKING, Sept. 7 (AP)—Indications today were that the official Japanese surrender in China would take place in this capital Sunday (Chinese time) and an American spokesman made it clear it will be a "100 per cent Chinese show."

"The Americans have been ordered to stay in the background and let the Chinese run it," said Brig. Gen. H. L. Boatner of New Orleans, deputy commander of the Chinese-American combat command.

(Preparations were under way for Japanese surrender in Shanghai. A delayed dispatch from that city said Lt. Gen. Chen Shu-sun, representing the Third Chungking army, on Tuesday night handed surrender instructions to Lt. Gen. Toii Minfu, chief of staff of the Japanese 13th army, detailing the manner of laying down arms, evacuation of troops and other pertinent data.)

Hub Hospital Orderly Found Dead of Fumes

Indict Brothers In $1,000,000 Tax Evasion Case

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (INS)—Indictments charging attempted evasion of war-time income taxes of nearly $1,000,000 and diversion of millions of pounds of sugar were returned today against two brothers, former officers of a New Jersey food processing concern.

Named as defendants are Murray Greenberg, 47, Brooklyn, and his brother, Leo, 43, Passaic, N. J. Until recently they were president and vice-president of the Fresh Grown Fruit Preserves Corp., of Lyndhurst, N. J.

The charge of conspiracy and attempted tax evasion was returned by a federal grand jury.

The second indictment, charging illegal diversion of 25 million pounds of sugar was returned in Newark. Others named are the fruit preserve firm; Royal Crown Bottling Co. of Baltimore and Washington, and William C. Franklin, president of both; Robert Salfron, of Brooklyn, and S. & J. Barron Corp., of New York.

The indictment, alleging conspiracy to defraud the government, charges forging and counterfeiting of sugar purchase certificates.

In the tax case, the brothers were accused of concealing cash sales and withholding checks. U. S. Attorney McGohey said the sales resulted from diversions of sugar "ostensibly obtained to make food stuffs for Army and Navy hospitals and other exempt agencies."

Can't Use Name Of Sister Kenny

The National Humane League, Inc., with headquarters at 319 Huntington ave., Back Bay, today was permanently enjoined from using, to raise money, the name of Elizabeth Kenny, famed discoverer of the Kenny method for treatment of infantile paralysis victims.

Judge Goldberg issued the injunction in Suffolk Superior Civil Court when Miss Kenny and the Elizabeth Kenny Institute, Inc., of Minneapolis, Minn., complained the league planned "to profit" from use of the name in a nationwide drive for funds.

Caryl B. Abbott, Huntington ave., listed as president and national field adjutant of the league, also was enjoined from using Miss Kenny's name.

In addition to Miss Kenny's name, the league was also barred from use of the names "Sister Kenny" or "The Sister Kenny Mercy Penny Committee" or any similar name.

The petition claimed the league was not authorized to campaign for funds for infantile paralysis treatments and that the organization has no definite plan, so far as the plaintiff can learn, to distribute the funds for the benefit of the plaintiff."

Miss Kenny's petition also stated that the Kenny Institute planned a national drive for money this fall.

holding strategic points from the south tip of Kyushu to Tokyo, in central Honshu, negotiations were under way for the American Navy to take over a Japanese base on the extreme north tip of Honshu.

R. Adm. Kanome, chief of staff of the Ominato Naval Base, led a Japanese delegation aboard the USS Panamint, flagship of V. Adm. Frank Jack Fletcher, off north Honshu.

The delegation opened discussions to transfer that base to Adm. Fletcher.

Ominato is nearly 400 miles north of Tokyo.

Plans call for occupational forces to move into Sendai, 190 miles north of Tokyo, Naugata, 160 miles northwest, and Aomori, across Mutsu Bay from Ominato, within the next two weeks.

In Manila, it was disclosed today that 10,000 Japanese troops in north Luzon's Cagayan valley laid down their arms Wednesday before 1000 American doughboys of Maj. Gen. Robert S. Beightler's 37th (Buckeye) Division.

At Guam, the Navy disclosed another bold stroke—a task force movement Wednesday and Thursday into Formosa, where more than 1200 Allied prisoners were set free.

Seventh Fleet naval units were anchored at Port Dairen, Manchuria, while contact was sought with a prisoner of war camp at Mukden, believed to hold men of high rank captured on Guam and Corregidor.

From inside Japan came another chapter of the growing story of how Allied war power spread creeping paralysis through the nation in the last days of war.

At Yokosuka naval air station, Hagime Onishi, Japanese seaplane pilot, said Nipponese ceased volunteering for the sure-death roles as Kamikaze pilots. Instead, they had to be drafted.

CUTICURA

Tyler Kent, Soon Free, Seeks Probe

Boston Evening American Washington Bureau

By DAVID SENTNER

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7—The case of Tyler Kent, paralleling Pearl Harbor in potential political dynamite and international implications, threatens to boil over when the young diplomat code chief of the American Embassy in London is released from a British jail Oct. 5.

Kent was convicted in October, 1940, at a secret trial in London's Old Bailey, of having obtained and delivered to a foreign agent copies of diplomatic documents, under the British Official Secrets Act.

The young careerist of the State Department protested his innocence, purportedly maintaining that he had copied certain coded messages between President Roosevelt and Winston Churchill which he felt would inject the United States into the war and warranted presentation before a congressional committee.

Furthermore, he insisted his diplomatic immunity had been waived illegally by his superiors, and that he was entitled under his constitutional rights to be brought back to the United States for trial.

The testimony before the secret British court hearing has been permanently impounded.

Neither the British Foreign Office nor the State Department has revealed to date the contents of the documents Kent is alleged to have copied.

Specific moves planned in Congress within the next few days include a resolution for a full investigation of the entire matter by a congressional committee.

Pending safe return to this country of her son, Mrs. William T. Kent is not planning any immediate steps aiming at his vindication other than pressing his legal action for back salary before the U. S. Court of Claims here.

"This action has been brought for the recovery of the salary due Tyler from May, 1940, to date, on the grounds that he was never legally dismissed from his position in the American embassy in London," said Mrs. Kent.

Quisling's Fate In Jury's Hands

OSLO, Sept. 7 (AP)—The treason case against Vidkun Quisling went to a seven-man judge-jury panel today after he concluded a two-day oration in his own defense.

"If my activity has been treason—as the records of this case charge—then in the name of God I hope that for Norway's sake many of her sons will become the same kind of traitor as I without, however, being thrown into prison," the pale-faced former puppet dictator declared.

The verdict is not expected to be handed down before Sept. 12.

Quizling had told the court that "Hitler took a deep liking for me and wanted me for other tasks in Europe."

He recounted his meeting with Hitler in December, 1939, a few months before Germany invaded Norway, and said the Fuehrer talked of peace.

He said Hitler respected him "because I took care of my people's interests."

He said there was no secret plot to deliver Norway to the Nazis.

Teacher Jailed In Morals Case

An English High School teacher and a hotel waiter were given sentences of six months, and three years and three months, respectively, today in municipal court as the result of testimony police obtained from two youths involved in morals cases.

The teacher, William F. Frink, 35, of Blagdon st., Back Bay, an instructor in mathematics and languages, had pleaded guilty last week. He was sentenced by Judge Donovan today.

The waiter, Gerald R. Birdsong, 39, West Newton st., was arrested on five morals charges involving both youths. He pleaded not guilty. Judge Elias Shamon found against him and pronounced the sentence of three years and three months. Birdsong appealed.

Higher education couldn't stand the high temperature at Lexington today and high school classes were dismissed an hour early.

The 90-degree heat made no difference to the grammar grades, however, and classes continued to the regular closing hour.

The high school football squad used the unexpected time to get in some extra practice despite the heat.

With the mercury in the middle 90's in Boston, the weatherman predicted more of the same for Saturday and Sunday. Tonight was expected to be clear and warm, lowest about 68 degrees.

Lucian R. Corriveau, 21, war veteran and Eastern Mass. Street Railway bus driver, was found guilty today in municipal court of operating to endanger in a Sumner tunnel accident Aug. 10 and sentenced to two months in jail. He appealed.

Witnesses testified Corriveau was driving his bus eastbound and was involved in a rear end collision with the last of a line of 10 cars halted on an emergency signal. Six cars were piled up and several persons injured.

A suggestion that President Roads in Boston harbor be dredged and the earth used for fill at the Logan Airport was made to Governor Tobin today by a group of Boston men, headed by Frank Davis of the Chamber of Commerce maritime division and Roscoe Pryor of the Propeller Club.

At present, earth for fill is being taken from the harbor near the airport by the hydraulic method. Governor Tobin passed along the suggestion for the dredging of President Roads to the public works department.

Charged with breaking and entering an apartment above hers in Garden st., West End, Mrs. Mercedes McElhinney, 23, and Philip Marino, 20, of Holden ct., North End, pleaded not guilty in municipal court today and were held for hearing Thursday.

Mrs. McElhinney, who allegedly prevailed on a 16-year-old youth to do the actual breaking, was also charged with contributing to the delinquency of a minor and held in $1500. Bail was set at $1000 in Marino's case.

Veterans' Friend

By JAMES F. McENANEY

Q—In the case of a man dishonorably discharged, does he receive the benefit of the Soldiers and Sailors Act? L. R., Concord.

A—Yes. There is no distinction.

Q—Do you have any list of contract physicians by the Veterans' Administration in Greater Boston? C. E., Brighton.

A—A list is available at the Veterans' Administration Bureau, 6th floor, Federal Building. You may contact them and will be informed of doctor designated as part time physician in your community.

Q—What is the time limit on the GI Bill? H. B., Wakefield.

A—Within two years after discharge or two years after termination of war, whichever is the later. It may not extend beyond 7 years after termination of war. Termination of war to be decided by Presidential proclamation.

Q—Both my sons are in service, Army and Navy. They enlisted in April, '42. One in Army has been overseas 16 months and in four invasions, holds Good Conduct Medal. Other boy in Navy and 20 years old, served 18 months overseas. They want to get back to their studies. What chances have they? Brighton Reader.

A—Soldier son has total of 76 points, but not sufficient for discharge due to his age. Son in Navy hasn't sufficient points, either. Most likely boy in Army will be released first, and son's discharge depends on Navy Dept. future plans regarding those signed for duration and six months.

Q—My boy friend was in Italy with the 5th Army, was wounded and transferred to the 182nd Station Hospital. I am anxious to know when he will return, as his mother is ill and worrying about him. R. G., Roxbury.

A—If your friend is still a hospital case, it is difficult to find out when he will return. Wounded men are being evacuated as fast as possible from ETO. War Dept. states only a few hospital cases due to combat remain. He should be home shortly, exact date not available.

Q—My husband has been in the Army since March 9, 1944, and went overseas in January. He is 36 years of age and we have two children and a third expected this month. Is there any chance of his coming home on a discharge? Are they releasing men with dependents now? M. D., East Boston.

A—Safe to say that he will be returned to U. S. and be eligible for discharge, according to information received by this column from Washington. During next 10 days new regulations induced by Congressional pressure upon War Dept. will be put in force.

Q—Do you have information when the remainder of the 5th Army is due home? Also when is personnel serving with Allied Military Government expected to return? M. E. C., South Boston.

A—Rapidly being shipped home as transportation facilities become available. Many remaining with Army of Occupation. AMG personnel indefinite due to nature of duties.

Ed. note: Contrary to a previous announcement by the War Dept., members of the 69th and 78th Inf. Divisions are scheduled to sail from France this month. Originally not listed for debarkation this year.

SLAIN TO MAKE A RUSSIAN HOLIDAY

AN AMERICAN parachutist was killed, another sustained a broken neck and three others were seriously injured in an exhibition flight over the Templehof Airdrome near Berlin the other day.

They were members of the famous Eighty-Second Airborne Division of the United States Army.

It was the first fatality in the division since its combat jump at Nijmegen, Holland.

It occurred, according to the press report, "during a formal review and air drop in honor of Marshal Georgi Zhukov."

WHY ARE OUR AMERICAN BOYS STILL BEING REQUIRED TO RISK AND LOSE THEIR LIVES IN USELESS AND PURPOSELESS EXHIBITIONS, NOW THAT THE WAR IS OVER?

It is time to stop SLAUGHTERING our American boys for any purpose, but particularly for the purpose of making A RUSSIAN HOLIDAY.

The responsible officers of the American Army in Europe should have a higher concept of their responsibility than needlessly and recklessly to endanger the lives of our young heroes who fought and won the war.

If these officers MUST "show off" for the honor and edification of Russian generals and visiting American Congressmen in a manner involving the risk and loss of American lives, why do not THEY take the risks and do the dying instead of assigning American soldiers to the hazardous and futile task?

LET SOME OF THE AMERICAN GENERALS JUMP OUT OF AIRPLANES WITH PARACHUTES FOR EXHIBITION PURPOSES IF THEY WANT TO, BUT LET THEM STOP PLAYING WITH THE LIVES OF OUR AMERICAN BOYS.

If there is no more important work for our boys in Europe than this, let them send the boys HOME.

There are already too many DEAD American heroes in Europe.

Why should more of them be killed and maimed, just to IMPRESS dignitaries sitting comfortably in safe places?

If this is what "occupation" means, let us have as little of it as possible and get it over as quickly as possible.

GRAIN PORT

THE FEDERAL GOVERNMENT has revealed that Boston was one of the nation's principal outlets for grain shipped to the war-ravaged countries of Europe throughout the emergency period.

Since the beginning of this year nearly ten million bushels of wheat were shipped through Boston.

This flow of grain must continue.

The very life of the port, for which the Legislature has appropriated $15,000,000, depends on it.

Efficiently operated vessels require heavy ballast cargo such as grain.

We cannot supply it here in New England. We must depend on the railroads' bringing it in from the West and Middle West.

And if they can do this in wartime, when speed and efficiency are mandatory, they most certainly can keep on doing it in peace.

Boston should be the greatest grain port on the North Atlantic.

TWENTY-SEVEN of the 31 Presidents of the United States were conceived in the period from December to July. So states a man of science in arguing that if you want your offspring to be standouts the thing to do is to have them conceived in the Winter or Spring. I was born in July. So once more I am on the outside looking in. Oh, well, I didn't want to be President anyhow. Still if I had been conceived in the Spring I might have been smart enough to have my ranch bought and paid for by this time. However, I am getting a little burned up by all these cracks about July babies. First one old boy says July-born people die young. Now this man comes along and intimates us July babies are a little on the dumb side. How about the July-born forming a club? If we couldn't successfully combat all the propaganda directed against us, at least we could meet occasionally and cry on each others shoulders.

BRIEFLY: Note it stated the eagle flies higher than any other bird. That's wrong. Wild geese are the highest fliers among birds, often attaining a height of 29,000 feet . . . X-ray studies of the head of a 4-day old baby are said to reveal how the child will look when it becomes an adult. So if you think your newly born female child is so beautiful that it will grow up to be a movie star like Linda Darnell, maybe you can check on your belief by having an X-ray study made of the youngster's head.

HORSES AND WOMEN: "Inspired by the six married men of Manhattan who formed a Horses and Women Club," writes a Pennsylvanian, "11 Pittsburgh husbands have organized a simlar organization. We shall meet weekly. Once a month we shall discuss women, on the other three nights we shall discuss horses. Those horses are hard to figure. At our first meeting the question was brought up: 'Should a man tell his wife that she snores?' We also talked about ways and means of stopping wives from applying lipstick and other make-up at a table in a restaurant. One member said he cured his wife of this obnoxious habit in this way: As soon as the little lady began applying the lipstick he took out a pocket mirror, placed it on the table and began combing his hair. After this he started manicuring his finger nails. His wife took the hint. Now she goes to the restaurant powder room to take care of her make-up."

QUERY FROM CLIENT: Q—To settle an argument between my stubborn husband and myself, just what is eugenics? A—The science of eugenics has been defined as "an attempt to apply biological discoveries to human affairs—and more especially discoveries concerning heredity." For example, St. Vitus dance, hay fever and baldness are some of the afflictions known to be hereditary. Eugenists try to find out why they are hereditary and to see if something can be done to do away with the possibility of people passing on these afflictions to their offsprings.

"Americans found out we unconquerable Japanese not pushovers like Germans, no?"

FAIR ENOUGH

By WESTBROOK PEGLER

Copyright, 1945, King Features Syndicate, Inc.

NEW YORK, Sept. 7—As one who took a not at all modest part in the revelation of conditions in the American union movement under the patronage of the Roosevelt government, I observed, with gloating satisfaction, that this year, when Labor Day came, two individuals lacked the effrontery to ignore such conditions further.

Westbrook Pegler

Fiorello LaGuardia and Harold Ickes both became conscious of the presence of thieves in higher union office, a condition which it seems they hitherto had thought it wise to minimize. I observed, with the same pleasure, that Mr. Schwellenbach, selected by President Truman to succeed Mrs. Perkins in the Labor Department, also thought the occasion ripe for a warning to the movement to be rid of rackets by its own initiative or accept government compulsion.

LAGUARDIA, with 19,000 policemen, has been slow to discover the existence in his own jurisdiction of the Fays and Boves whom he repudiates with resounding piety.

His cops, however, knew of such corrution in the political auxiliary by which LaGuardia created his reputation as a friend of the American toiler and might have told him all about the conditions.

I have treasured for several years a newspaper photograph showing LaGuardia and George Scalise signing articles of peace, amounting to a surrender by the city of New York, at the end of a strike of elevator operators by which this unioneer had compelled hundreds of thousands of New Yorkers, including cardiacs and cripples, to use the stairs in high buildings.

It seems not to have occurred to LaGuardia to telephone the detective bureau for a record on Scalise.

ICKES, in his oration before a gathering of workers, made the mistake of referring to the part which "labor" played in producing the atomic bomb.

By "labor," of course, Ickes and all members of his school mean the unions, not the workers who, by choice or compulsion, are members of these organizations.

And, again referring to the files, I find an original appeal from the U. S. Employment Service issued about a year ago, in tones of almost frantic urgency, for several thousand electricians to work on the plant then building in Tennessee, with a proviso, nevertheless, that each man must pay $50 to the local electricians' union of the American Federation of Labor, failing which he could not contribute his skill in the desperate race with the Germans to finish the bomb first.

Here, then, we found the Roosevelt government placing the interests of this small group, itself insufficient to do the job, above the lives of millions of American fighters who might have had to invade Japan the hard way, and, indeed, above victory itself.

Ickes was unfortunate, too, in a laudatory reference to the nomination for the office of mayor of Detroit of Richard Frankensteen, of the United Automobile Workers of the CIO. He took satisfaction in that, although, from Pearl Harbor to VJ-Day, no other union in the country had such a record of strikes, slowdowns and loafing.

ICKES, with LaGuardia, had noted that "there are some disreputable labor leaders with grasping fingers and deep pockets," a tardy realization inasmuch as the Department of Justice has files on practically all of them.

Thieves still thrive in defiant security in some unions and the few who have been beaten in court and sentenced to prison were not molested by the Federal Government. They were made notorious by newspaper initiative in the face of vicious propaganda from the Roosevelt machine and were convicted, one by one, through the diligence of such conscientious public officers as Tom Dewey and Frank Hogan in New York.

They still have the protection of the machine and the policy that Roosevelt built to exploit labor and they are not a minor element but an enormous power in both the A. F. of L. and the CIO.

Schwellenbach begged "labor" to assume responsibility to the common good and make certain that the public good not be transgressed.

That is like entreating a thief not to steal. "Labor" is not the worker but the boss unioneer.

The worker and the "common good" are helpless in the absence of laws imposing responsibility on the unions and protecting the rank and file from scoundrels.

Hollywood Today

By Dorothy Manners

(Louella O. Parsons is away on a vacation. During her absence the column will be written by Miss Manners.)

HOLLYWOOD, Sept. 7—The most sensational movie Warners ever made, "The Jazz Singer," comes back to the screen with Dane Clark starring in the old Al Jolson role! When I say sensational, I mean devastating.

Made originally in 1927, the first feature length sound movie, it sent cuties who couldn't read "lines" back home while bankrolls skidded from producers who hadn't guessed that sound was here to stay. Were those the days! As careers and studios toppled right and left the Warner freres moved over permanently to the sunny side of the street.

Lana Turner

So it is something that Dane, who has been doing supporting roles, gets this prize. This boy who used to be a prize fighter, a baseball player and a lawyer of sorts around New York, is coming along fast. In a way, he is a young James Cagney—only more so.

* * *

JOSEPHINE DILLON, referred to several times via the air last week as "Clark Gable's first wife, still living"—laughingly says, "As deplorable as it is, I don't know what I can do about it." Mrs. D. is not only living—but she has a very live plan up her sleeve. "I've been asked to head a finishing school for actors," she said over the phone. "It would be the most ambitious thing I have ever undertaken. The idea is not so much to bring along newcomers, as I have been doing, but to put the polishing and coaching finish to established players. I've hesitated because there is so much at stake, involving a lot of money for a studio, camera and sound equipment. If I take the plunge, it means I'll swim or sink."

* * *

WHAT HAPPENED to Rags Ragland should be a lesson to people who go in for amateur doctoring and advice. Rags was at Laguna for the Labor Day week-end and suddenly complained of not feeling well. Someone did a little amateur doctoring administering "shots" that made him so ill he was rushed immediately to the hospital. He's now at the Queen of the Angels, a very sick boy—so ill no one can see him.

* * *

HUGH HARMAN hit Lionel Barrymore in a weak spot when he told him he wanted to make a musical fantasy of Lionel's composition, "Halloween" which was recently put on at the Hollywood Bowl with Barrymore doing the narrating. Lionel's prouder of his art work and of his music than of anything he has ever done on stage or screen. So the deal is set, with the cartoon producer planning a feature length musical fantasy with a cast of cartoon and "live" actors in color. He would like to have Barrymore do the narrating—but that's up to M-G-M.

* * *

PERSONAL to the Hays Office. Hey, Fellas—I'm just curious to know if you boys saw those pictures of Lana Turner and John Garfield, clutched in each other's arms, in bathing suits, that appeared in a national mag last week? Hubba, hubba, hubba! If they are a sample of what goes on in "The Postman Always Rings Twice" he must be putting in a fire alarm. And you boys dictated that movie girls can't wear sweaters (even six sizes too big) and insisted on a retouch job on that cute pin up picture of Betty Grable last year!

* * *

HOLLYWOOD IN SHORTS: Patricia Johnson, who wrote "I'll Remember April," is in Reno legally forgetting New York actor Herb Evers; I've always suspected this was the way styles were born; Anne Baxter sat on a stovepipe hat at Kenneth Hopkins', and Hopkins liked the new shape so well he modeled it in his show! Parkyarkarkus has been offered $6000 for a U. S. silver dollar minted in 1804—and can't make up his mind to take it! Look out, Parky—that man in the little white jacket is right behind you; Sgt. Brod Crawford is back in this country and gets his Army discharge in 60 days. He dropped 40 pounds in Germany; former silent screen actor, Walter McGrail (one of the best), who has been working at Lockheed, is reconverting to a test studio for screen aspirants; Marry Anderson denying to high heaven that she and her husband, Leonard Behrens, are having trouble; Bill Perree walked out of his public relations job with a Lester Cowan right into the same spot with Ben Bogeaus.

* * *

SAM WOOD, who is going to make a picture in France, is getting French lessons from Adolphe Menjou and Jean Pierre Aumont on the "Heart-beat" set. But, Sam what you're saying maybe it doesn't mean anything that Olivia De Haviland has been showing up at nteries like the Troc with good looking Capt. Joe McKeon. But lately, they've been dueting at Schwab's drug store and that's serious; Bud Ernst and Betty Furness at the Beverly Tropics; this is the type of news that's good to print; William McGivin, who lost a leg in the war, has been given back his old job of dance instructor at Arthur Murray's; Ann Rutherford says she's so ashamed of her daughter, Gloria May, who attended her first kid party and pulled everybody's hair. Sometimes I know just how the kid felt!

* * *

WHAT DO YOU bet it isn't a reconciliation between Jan-Jimmie McHugh Jr. and Edna Canter: Jimmie spent the week-end at Las Vegas with Eddie Canter, his more or less estranged father-in-law. Georgie Jessel's house was robbed, but the only things missing are a star sapphire ring given him by Lois Andrews and a diamond lapel pin. What am I saying, "only" things!

* * *

YOU BET we will try to help Lt Robert Romesberg get back the heavy silver bracelet given him by his buddy, Charles H. Bogar. The boys had made 52 missions together Bogar was killed on the 53d. Romesberg noticed the bracelet for the last time riding the red interurban car down to Fay Bainter's beach house. He's offering a month's pay if the finder will contact him through Miss Bainter, 1024 Ocean Front; Merle Oberon says she and her bridegroom, Lucien Ballard, are not going back to England for honeymoon that they won't go abroad for a year or two.

Broadway

Gertrude Lawrence

NEW YORK, Sept. 7—Mike Romanoff, the royal restaurateur—well, the restaurateur—has changed his mind about opening a New York eating place . . . Jackie Gleason's torch for Lillian Moore is atomic. In fact, he has used up all his own crying towels and now is around trying to borrow some from the moaners who haunt Tommy Lyman's ringside . . . The war really is over! A well known radio actor currently appearing in a Broadway play heaved a beer bottle at a cabbie outside the stately Plaza at 6 the other morning—just because the cab wouldn't stop for him . . . Countess Brenda von Ravenholt, who is anticipating a Miami divorce from her Danish husband, will make 26-year-old Stan Harris (the singer at La Martinique) her next groom. She's blonde and beautiful . . . Those in the know say the arrangements for filming Gertrude Lawrence's autobiography, "A Star Danced," haven't been set yet because of the number of clearances which must be obtained from "real life" characters before the picture can be started. ★ ★ ★

PEOPLE WHO KNEW Jacqueline Daly in the Broadway days are amazed to read in all the coast reports of her romance with Van Johnson that her age is 20 or 21. She was a glamor girl in the Gay White Way places almost a decade ago. Two more Nassau County scandals are brewing. One concerns garbage disposal; the other (which will interest the ABC Board) involves restaurants which advertise "steaks, chops, chickens, barbecue" but actually serve no food at all—just cocktails and highballs . . . Liz Whitney rode to and from the Lexington, Ky., horse show in a horse van, accompanying a $5000 thoroughbred from her Virginia stables.

EDMUND GOULDING, who is busy directing June Havoc and Edmund Lowe in "The Ryan Girl" behind closed doors over at the National, relaxes by dinner dating with Doris Lilly, the pretty blond actress-model . . . Lolita Cordoba, the fiery Latin lass who figured in that now-faintly-remembered Van Wyck scandal, confides that she's registered at a midtown hotel under an assumed name so she can enjoy in utter quietude the torch she's lifting for her most recent husband.

BUDDY DeSYLVA, who has been so gravely ill, is in N. Y. with his wife and looking paler and thinner than the dynamic DeSylvia of yore, but feeling well enough to plan a month of combined business-and-visiting. One of his chores will be to arrange to release the picture "Stork Club," which was his baby . . . Canny Tony Mele, proprietor of Theodore's, has made a subtle but fascinating change in the restaurant's decor. The mirrors that used to line the walls have been replaced unobtrusively by others—the kind that makes every woman look slimmer! . . . Heavens! They're making little Margaret O'Brien glamorous. Some of the ads for her new flicker show her wearing a pair of eyelashes that couldn't possibly be real.

Boston After Dark

IN THE VERY COLD industry known as "show-business," where there are 50 knockers to each booster, and where the ringsides and aisle-seats are tenanted chiefly by descendants of frogs who croak throatily when a show or a performer fails to click—in this very unsentimental and unfeeling racket which "prides" itself on such emotional slogans as "the show must go on" and "all for one and one for all"—we find occasionally some nice people who really and truly wish their fellow human sufferers well.

★ ★ ★

WE'LL CUT THE STORY short and try not to be too sloppy in telling it . . . At the Bradford Roof last night, the talented Jackie Gleason, whom Bostonians remember as the comedy mainstay of the musical comedy "Follow the Girls," was making his debut . . . It was Jackie's first shot at the remunerative cabaret business, and he was—and is—being paid a huge salary (as much as a good newspaperman works for six months to earn, Jackie gets each week).

★ ★ ★

FRESH OUT of musical comedy where his every line and gesture was conceived and staged for his use toward the major end of making the show a hit, Comedian Gleason was suddenly out there under the lights and strictly on his own . . . No costumes, no girls, no comrades in sailor suits, no Gertrude Niesen waiting in the wings, no two-weeks-on-the-road before New York—no hit tunes, no—well (as the boys say) no nuttin'.

★ ★ ★

AND JACKIE DID FAIRLY well . . . But he needed material and acutely . . . His attractive and ebullient personality almost put him over for a solid hit . . . But not quite . . . Mitigating his complete success was an overlong preceding show (Mr. Gleason being the star), and it was a good show.

★ ★ ★

A SPLENDID dance team named Cappello and Patricia bore out their advance heraldings as one of the crack dance teams now current . . . They have "class"—in fact, they reek of it . . . They do a mazurka in a modern fashion and an imitation of Vernon and Irene Castle doing the Tiger Rag (in Paris 25 years ago) which is true to the Castles and a classic . . . Then came Gracie Barrie and Jacques Renard . . . Gracie is the personable and pert little singer of songs who stole the show from the Bob Hope unit at the Boston Garden last spring.

★ ★ ★

MISS BARRIE has never been as good as she now is . . . Mr. Renard—everybody knows . . . He played his famous interpretation of "Intermezzo" . . . Every act on the Bradford's show—preceding Mr. Gleason—bordered on the sensational . . . Then Jackie Gleason did his best . . . It was a tough spot . . . Bob Hope himself found himself in a tough spot, due to the vagaries of an unpredictable business, when he had to follow the same little Miss Barrie at the huge Garden last spring . . . That was for charity and everybody went away happy . . . (But Mr. Hope—you may bet—will not permit himself to be placed in a similar contretemps again.)

★ ★ ★

MR. GLEASON CAN'T DO anything about spotting himself differently than the starring, closing position in the current, expensive show at the Bradford . . . And it wouldn't make too much difference . . . But he would be a less unhappy actor today had he happened to be eavesdropping on the table occupied at his supper show by your reporter.

★ ★ ★

FIRST MISS BARRIE pleaded for a bit of consideration for her fellow-performer, Mr. Gleason . . . "He's such a grand boy," said Gracie . . . "You know what opening nights are . . . Give him a little time—and some material" . . . The act known as Cappella and Patricia came next . . . Mr. Cappella knew that he had clicked, and so did his lovely partner . . . But they were thinking of the star, Mr. Gleason . . . "Jackie—he ees so funny," said Mr. Cappella. "He spen' t'ree say four tousand dollaire for material — he ees beeeg—beeger than them all" . . . Mr. Gleason is big—or beef—physically . . . We think he is big enough in the region of the heart to get himself a better act and become the smash hit in the cafes he proved to be on the musical comedy stage . . . The kid has the talent, the personality—and we think the courage.

ANNOUNCEMENT is at hand of the marriage in Durham, N. H., of Ed Ryan, the good-looking and able manager of the Town House and Mrs. Harriet Redmond . . . Mr. Ryan was telling us, by the way, that the war's end has not promulgated any rush of prospective employes toward that fast-growing restaurant . . . The Fox and Hounds' attractive Rhumba Casino (where once stood a community chapel for some of the wealthiest families in Beacon st. and environs) will be redecorated with the loss of not so much as a night's entertainment of its guests . . . The job may take a few days, but it will be done in off-hours and with a planned development that will not detract from the room's attration.

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 - I had the inestimable privilege the other day of watching our newest and youngest Senator slowly being driven daffy.

Sen. Knowland

Our newest and youngest is Sen. William Fife Knowland of California, who has just been appointed to fill the unexpired term of the grand old man of Congress, the late Hiram Johnson.

Knowland is 37, which makes him the youngest on the job now, although not the youngest we ever had. The most youthful of all time—and a cute kiddie he was too—was Rush Holt of West Virginia. Holt was only 29 at the time of his election in November, 1943, and there was a bitter fight over whether he would be seated because Article I, section 3, of the constitution says:

"No person shall be a Senator who shall not have attained the age of 30 years, and been nine years a citizen of the United States, and who shall not, when elected, be an inhabitant of that state for which he shall be chosen."

Holt did not present himself to be seated until the following June—that was in the days of the old lame duck Congresses—and he was finally admitted on the ground that he was then 30.

Robert W. Lafollette, Jr., of Wisconsin, was seven months past 30 when he was elected to the Senate. But that was back in 1925 and "Young Bob" as he is still called is now a sere and yellow half-century.

Until the arrival of Sen. Knowland the youngest of the current mob was Sen. Hugh B. Mitchell of Washington. But, by comparison, Mitchell is a crochety old man. He was 38 last March.

BUT MAYBE—if you are anything like my Aunt Hattie—you will not care to hear any more discussion of ages. Possibly you would like to know why our boyish newcomer was being driven nuts.

It seems that Mr. Knowland, who is an assistant newspaper publisher by trade, came here quite abruptly. In fact, he didn't know he was a Senator until he read it in an Army publication called Stars and Stripes.

The young fellow was a major in the Army, having worked up from a draftee. This is pretty good for an assistant publisher and I am sure we should all be more respectful to them as a class in the future.

The reason Knowland didn't know of his appointment was that he was on a plane from France to Germany when Gov. Earl Warren of California sent the cable of notification. When he read it in Stars and Stripes he took a copy of the paper to his superior officer and said:

"I am sorry I cannot be with you any longer. I have just been made a United States Senator!"

He came here and found it would be difficult to get a place to live. In fact, he is still trying. And the hotel where he is stopping keeps muttering something about guests being allowed to stay only 12 days.

But that isn't all. He had a devil of a time getting an office. It appears that Sen. Johnson's old office had been spoken for by a Senator with more seniority. The old timers get the best choice of accommodations at the Capitol.

Finally he was told that Sen. Charles O. Andrews of Florida was moving to a choicer suite and that he could have the old Andrews place.

I tried to get Mr. Knowland by phone and this—so help me!—is what the Capitol operator said:

"I think he is in his office because we have heard from him. But he has no phone."

I found Mr. Knowland in the old Andrews' office and it was quite true he had no phone. And no furniture either. He did not seem happy about it.

The office had two telephone instruments but they were ostensibly dead. But, as we talked, they began ringing. The Senator dashed for them. Only to come back looking baffled.

"They're just trying them out," he explained.

The phones kept br-r-r-ing away—just testing. Mr. Knowland, who was slowly losing his pleasant smile, said he hoped they would get through testing them before the end of the session.

Strange people kept coming in. It seemed, however, they wanted someone else. Finally a very small messenger boy darted in. Mr. Knowland stretched out his hand for a telegram but the kid said:

"I want a pass to get in the Senate tomorrow and hear them talk. They said I could get a pass if I saw a Senator!"

As the kid departed with his pass, Knowland muttered:

"I wish I had a secretary. A Senator really needs a secretary!"

★ ★ ★

ANOTHER REPORTER came in, studied the newcomer's face, and said:

"You're pretty young at that. Are you thinking of growing a beard?"

The reporter, who may have a sideline drumming up business for a barber for all I know, strolled out. I asked Senator Knowland if he meant to follow the isolationist policies of Senator Johnson.

"I do not," he said emphatically. "Isolation is dead. We can't go back to isolation any more than we can return to childhood. We're a world power and we've got to realize it!"

★ ★ ★

FOR ALL his youth, Knowland isn't exactly a legislative neophyte. He served six years in the California Legislature—two years in the Assembly, three in the State Senate. And his father, Joseph R. Knowland (who is still living) served in the House of Representatives here from 1903 to 1915.

"What! No good conduct ribbon?"

"Was I WRONG, back in 1945!"

1. "All during the Second World War, I was working in a munitions plant, and working hard. Wages were high. I made more money, then, than I ever made in my life before. It just came rolling in!

2. "I grabbed my chance and salted my money away. A lot of the things you needed you couldn't buy during the war, anyhow. And many things were scarce, or else you had to pay more than you should.

3. "When the war was over, I had plenty of War Bonds, more life insurance, and a nice savings account. Then goods started coming back. I bought what I needed, but I didn't stop there. I shot the works!

4. "I should have known I'd need a nest egg someday—get sick, lose my job, or maybe want to buy my own home. But somehow I went overboard, and it didn't take long to eat up most of my savings.

5. "Here I am—65—working hard as ever—no backlog for the future—no more saved than before the war. I wish I'd had sense enough to keep my money when I had it. Was I WRONG, back in 1945!"

Life Insurance Companies in America

and their agents

. . . to cooperate with our government in preserving the financial health of the nation

BUT IT IS STILL 1945—YOU CAN STILL BE RIGHT. If we spend our money carelessly now, we may look back some day with regret. If we use it wisely now, conserve our nest eggs, we can help to avoid inflationary price increases . . . and at the same time build up backlogs of savings for the kind of future we all desire.

During the war, millions of Americans saved to protect their families, to educate their children, to start a business of their own, to own their own home, to retire. They are following the advice of our Government, buying only what they really need, buying and holding onto their War Bonds and life insurance, and maintaining their savings accounts. Are you one of them?

America's life insurance companies are sponsoring this program of information as a public service to the 70,000,000 owners of life insurance and to every American citizen.

Purge 12,000 Nazi Financiers

FRANKFURT, Germany, Sept. 7 (AP)—Denazification of Germany's financial institutions has been virtually completed in the U. S. Zone with the purging of nearly 12,000 Nazis in the 21 largest cities and the elimination of thousands of others from the financial life of hundreds of smaller towns and villages.

Furthermore, U. S. officials said today the house cleaning had not resulted in the collapse or even in serious hindrance of operations as some officials had predicted.

"Proper replacements are available," Russell Nixon, former Harvard lecturer and CIO staff economist in Washington, reported.

Committees of "clean bankers" already have been formed in the 20 major cities of the U. S. Zone, Nixon disclosed.

Army Opens N. E. Recruiting Drive

Aimed at obtaining replacements for combat veterans on occupation duty in Europe and Japan, the First Service Command today launched a recruiting campaign to obtain voluntary enlistments for the regular Army.

Col. Charles L. Stephenson, military personnel procurement director for First Service Command, said recruiting headquarters will be established at Ft. Banks, Springfield, Providence, R. I., Portland, Me., Manchester, N. H., Burlington, Vt., and New Haven, Ct.

Enlistments will be for three years and all physically fit men between 18 and 35 are eligible, Col. Stephenson said. Recruits may choose the station, arm or service they prefer.

New Haven Rail Post To William H. Clark

Howard S. Palmer, president of the New Haven R. R., today announced appointment of William H. Clark of Winthrop, as public relations representative, with headquarters at Boston.

Clark, a Boston newspaperman for the past 25 years, was recently a Neiman fellow of Harvard University and previously editor-in-chief, historial branch, Chemical Warfare Service, U. S. Army.

"We've got to get Ma better, too," he said. "She's lost about 30 pounds since I was arrested. But everything's okay now and I hope soon that I'll be able to do something that will make her very happy."

He laughingly parried whether this indicated an early wedding, but confided: "Well, I love her and I know she loves me."

Miss Dausch, too, in an earlier telephone interview had disclosed no wedding date had been set.

"I'm still in the Navy," you know," she said, "and I haven't any idea when I'll get out. If the Navy will allow him any time, I expect he'll come down here to visit me. He hopes to get out of the Navy soon."

During the conversation, Miss Dausch expressed joy at his vindication.

"Naturally, I'm very happy at the news," she said. "As I said before, I have believed in him right from the start. There never was any doubt in my mind about his innocence."

As young Desmarais prepared to leave Tyngsboro with the shore patrolmen to report back to the Navy in Boston, Atty. Viola said he was going to Lowell to confer with Lowell and State Police.

"We uncovered considerable evidence in our own investigation, some which I don't believe the police have," he said. "We're turning over everything to them and will co-operate in every way in their efforts to solve this crime."

Desmarais, a 22-year-old Nashua youth who joined the Navy as a ship's cook and saw action in the Pacific, was freed of the slaying charge when the grand jury refused to indict him.

He was exonerated after 20 witnesses had been questioned in three days, and Judge Abraham L. Pinanski ordered his return to Lowell for discharge.

The sailor was arrested by police after he had come forward voluntarily to inform authorities that he had been with Mrs. Saunders on the night of July 8, the last night she was reported alive.

Her body was found in a crude and shallow grave near a lonely lovers' lane in Dracut Aug. 1. Unclad except for a pair of sports shoes, it was identified through a locket found nearby which contained a picture of her daughter, Constance, 10 months old.

Marines Hear Last Quack From Duck With 133 Points

CHICAGO, Sept. 7 (AP)—Siwash, the leatherneck duck that waddled ashore with Yanks at Tarawa, Tinian and Saipan, has 43 points more than her master's 90 and was taking a last quack at Marine life today.

The waddling mascot of the first and second battalions, Tenth Marines, joined the service in a New Zealand pub in March, 1943, when Cpl. Francis Fagan of Chicago won her in a raffle for a shilling. Since then, Fagan calculated, she amassed this point score:

Overseas service, 20 points; 26 months of duty, 26; three major engagements, 15; dependents (12 ducklings hatched during a furlough at a Wilmington, Ill., duck farm) 72—Total 133.

She picked up a taste for beer in her pub days, Fagan said, and she'll probably have a few to celebrate her honorable discharge.

Foundation, Aims of CYO Described in New Booklet

"Youth," a new booklet outlining the formation and aims of the Catholic Youth Organization of the Boston archdiocese, was issued by Rev. George M. Dowd, director.

The organization, commonly known as CYO, fulfillment of Cardinal O'Connell's desire to coordinate all youth activities, was founded Oct. 19, 1938. It has found a good friend and supporter in Abp. Cushing.

"Today," the booklet reads, "by virtue of the enthusiastic and co-operative labors of zealous pastors, curates and laity, the CYO is a well-established and ever-growing movement which ranks as an integral and important phase of the wise and comprehensive program whereby the Catholic Church moulds better Christians and better citizens."

The CYO is divided for competitive purposes into groups of boys and girls, young men and young women of three different age levels; junior, 10 to 15 years inclusive; intermediate, 16 to 19 inclusive; senior, 20 to 25 inclusive.

In non-competitive activities, children of lower age levels are considered members of CYO.

"The CYO," the booklet reads, "should be based on a uniform plan covering all the needs and interests of the young. It should help the young to conduct themselves as Christians in every respect and should constitute an introduction into Catholic manhood and womanhood."

Hub Officer Wins Silver Star

For his extraordinary heroism in rescuing six wounded men under heavy enemy fire, 2 Lt. James P. Clifford, husband of Mrs. Helen Clifford, of Richfield st., Dorchester, has been awarded the Silver Star, the Army disclosed today.

Lt. James P. Clifford

Clifford performed his courageous acts during offensive operations with the 328th Inf., 26th Div., near Bonnal, Luxembourg, on Christmas Day, 1944.

The citation accompanying the award stated, in part:

"Despite intense enemy artillery and mortar fire which prevented previous attempts to aid two wounded officers, Clifford, with utter disregard for personal safety, crossed a distance of 200 yards under fire and carried both officers to safety.

"He was informed that a third officer had been wounded and, unhesitatingly, he went out a third time and carried the officer to safety. He made three additional trips and brought back three more seriously wounded men."

Lt. Clifford is the son of Timothy J. Clifford of Hosmer st., Watertown.

Tax Slash Seen Effective Jan. 1

WASHINGTON, Sept. 7 (AP)—A $5,000,000,000 cut in federal taxes effective Jan. 1 was forecast today by Chairman George of the Senate Finance Committee.

The reductions would include: Corporations, $2,000,000,000. Individuals, $2,500,000,000 to $3,000,000,000.

Elimination of one or two excise taxes, such as the automobile use tax, for an unspecified saving to taxpayers.

By JULIAN HARTT

TOKYO, Sept. 7 (INS)—Kamikase pilots declared today that use of Jap suicide planes two years ago—when first proposed—would have defeated the Allies at the close of 1944.

The pilots, Capt. Tokishiri Sasada, 27, of the Fourth Attack Squadron, and Lt. Seijo Fukawa, 22, of the 11th Group, said that the late Mitsuru Toyama, then 90-year-old head of the dreaded Black Dragon Society, conceived the idea in 1943.

Japanese chiefs of staff overruled Toyama's proposal, saying the drain on first line fliers was an already serious problem.

Kamikazes, which later made numerous attacks on shipping off Okinawa when Allied sea and air power was overwhelming, obviously would have been more effective two years ago when Japan held the balance of power in the Pacific.

So much more effective, the pilots said, that Jap militarists now believe their use in 1943 would have won the war for Nippon.

Both suicide fliers denied green pilots were committed to the notorious suicide flights after little training. Most were top-flight Jap army and navy airmen, Sasada said.

Fukawa said that while awaiting death trips the men were assembled daily for the reading of Imperial rescripts. Some wrote poetic suicide notes, others read military essays and many engaged in duels and other forms of athletics designed to release nervous energy.

Wives, sweethearts, mothers and children of the chosen pilots were brought by special trains and vehicles to the field for the last farewell, he added.

John F. Urges Use of Helicopter

Former Mayor John F. Fitzgerald, member of the new Boston Port Authority, today disclosed that he was recommending plans for the use of helicopters for cross-city deliveries between stores and warehouses, to relieve motor truck congestion in the Boston area.

"There's no use planning a fine port if the city's streets are so crowded that motor vehicles can't get through with the goods to be shipped," he said.

He revealed that a plan had also been tentatively approved for a crosstown highway, connecting North Station with Atlantic ave., passing through Haymarket sq. to the market district and into Broad st.

BACK TO SCHOOL

...BUT HEARTY APPETITES GO ALONG, JUST THE SAME.

If your child takes his lunch to school and does not eat at the regular school cafeteria, make sure that his lunch has appetite appeal and has enough variety. Be sure that the sandwiches contain meat or other protein food. Remember to use lettuce whenever possible in sandwiches and don't forget some fruit. If your child can get milk at school, by all means do not neglect this important food to help make the lunch well balanced.

Simple Breakfast Parties Are Fun

By MARTHA LEE, Household Editor

FUN FOR HOMEMAKERS are the parties that insist that you "come as you are" when the phone rings with an invitation for breakfast. Fun it is, too, to be able to participate in your own behalf by serving an economical, easy-to-serve and nutritious meal that tastes every bit as good as it looks.

You'll lose no ration points by serving a tossed cereal bowl (simply prepared by tossing together three or four ready-to-eat cereals in your favorite salad bowl) with a variety of fresh fruits.

HOT MUFFINS

2 cups sifted all-purpose flour
3 tsp. baking powder
½ tsp. salt 2 tbsp. sugar
1 egg, well beaten
4 tbsp. melted shortening or salad oil 1 cup milk

Sift together all the dry ingredients. Combine remaining ingredients. Add all at once to flour mixture, stirring not beating, quickly and vigorously until just mixed and of a lumpy appearance, but no longer. Over-stirring causes coarse-textured muffins. Fill greased or oiled muffin pans 2-3 full, and bake in a hot oven of 425 deg. F. about 25 minutes. Makes 14 2¼-inch muffins. (2¼ cups sifted cake flour may be substituted for the all-purpose flour.)

Excellent muffins can be made quickly and easily from packaged biscuit mixture, following the directions on the package. Packaged corn muffin mixture is also available on the grocer's shelf.

REFRIGERATOR ROLLS

1 cup hot water 1 tsp. salt
6 tbsp. shortening ¼ cup sugar
1 cake fresh or dry granular yeast
8 tbsp. lukewarm water
1 egg, well beaten
3½ to 4 cups sifted all-purpose flour

Combine hot water, salt, shortening and sugar in a large bowl. Cool to lukewarm, add yeast softened in the lukewarm water. Add the egg, half the flour, and beat well. Stir in more of the flour—enough to make a dough easily handled. Grease top of dough, cover and store in refrigerator—it keeps 4 or 5 days. Cut off dough as needed. Shape into biscuits and arrange in a greased or oiled pan. Or shape into balls and place in greased or oiled 2¼-inch muffin pans. Cover, and let rise in a warm place (80 to 85 deg. F.) until double in bulk—about 1½ hours. Bake in hot oven of 425 deg. F. for 12 to 15 minutes. Remove; brush with melted fat or salad oil. This makes about 18 medium-sized rolls. If preferred, the refrigerator roll dough may be formed into biscuits or rolls as soon as mixed. Then raise and bake as directed.

SCRAMBLED EGGS

3 tbsp. butter, margarine or salad oil 9 eggs
¼ tsp. salt ⅛ tsp. pepper
⅔ cup milk or thin cream

Melt the butter in the top of a double boiler. Beat the eggs slightly, add remaining ingredients and beat thoroughly. Pour into double boiler and cook until thick and creamy, occasionally scraping the egg from the bottom and sides of pan, as it sets. Makes 6 servings. (If you prefer to use a skillet in scrambling eggs, melt butter in it, add egg mixture and cook as above, stirring gently and almost constantly as it sets.

SHIRRED EGGS

Grease or oil the desired number of ramekins or custard cups, then line with buttered soft bread crumbs. Carefully break an egg in each, sprinkle with salt and pepper, and cover, each with 1 tbsp. top milk or thin cream. Arrange in a shallow pan and bake in a moderate oven (350 deg. F.) for 15 to 20 minutes or until eggs are set. (Minced, cooked meat may be sprinkled in dishes before adding eggs, if desired.)

Fashion

BUTTON, BUTTON, who's got the button? The really smart girl knows that the new buttons are jewels of little price but tremendous effectiveness! Have you discovered some of the La Mode buttons, such as these gilded grape leaves, which can be used to dramatize a plain crepe frock, your simple gloves, your handbag . . . and can be, for a very small sum, made into stunning earrings? (All this needs is a little household cement and a couple of old earring backs.)

Beauty

Just Grand for Dry Skin

By RUTH MUGGLEBEE
Beauty and Fashions Editor

SEEING Irene Dunne in her newest picture, we are reminded of the fact that she is well over 21 . . . and so youthfully lovely that she is an inspiration to all women. If you would defy time, be careful in your choice of a make-up base . . . today we tell you of a splendid one for dry skins.

IF WE SEEM to harp on make-up foundations, it is because they are so very important, and because so many women seem to have difficulty finding the right make-up base.

Some women swear by pancake bases which are blended in with water and a sponge; others declare that this type of foundation is drying, although the newer ones are said not to be so for normal skins. Some girls like better a film of cream base which doesn't cover imperfections as well as other types, but which imparts a youthful glow. And still others like a liquid.

Well, there we are. If you have found the perfect foundation for your skin, you are fortunate. If not, I wish you would try one I have just sampled and like enormously.

It is called "liquid velvet" and that is a very apt description of this luscious-looking, creamy stuff. For skins that have grown dry during the summer, it is wonderful, for it is chock full of natural oils, yet it neither looks nor feels greasy.

SEVERAL HEAVENLY SHADES

It comes in several heavenly shades, and it is amazingly economical to use. You are warned not to use it too lavishly . . . just one drop on your fingertip for your brow, another for the nose and cheeks, a tiny dab on the chin, and you smooth it well into your face and down into the throat.

The impressive thing about this foundation is that, although it actually helps lubricate your skin, it covers lines and blemishes as well as do the pancake types. It gives your skin a lovely, petal-like quality over which your rouge and powder go on beautifully. You will find, however, that you really don't need powder. Many girls simply use the foundation and lipstick, plus sparing eye-make-up.

Call Liberty 4000, week days except Saturdays, before 5 o'clock, or write me, care of the Boston Evening American, Boston 6, enclosing a stamped and self-addressed envelope, for the name of this product and of the shop which carries it.

Introducing Bridegroom

DEAR MRS. BEECKMAN:
I have always disliked making introductions, and now that I am to be married soon, I dread the thought of all the introductions I'll have to make in the receiving line. Since my prospective bridegroom is from another state, he has met very few of my relatives and friends. Just how should I introduce him when we greet the guests at the reception?

L. K.

Please don't let this worry cloud your happiness as you are receiving your guests, since for these particular introductions the form is simple. The form "this is" is a proper and intimate one to use when you are introducing him to relatives: "Aunt Margaret (or Uncle Albert), this is Tom." When you are introducing him to a cousin, you may say, "Mary, this is Tom," and then to your bridegroom say, "My cousin, Mary Carter." To an older woman, perhaps a friend of your family, say: "Mrs. Robbins, may I present my husband?" And when introducing him to a man who is not a relative: "Mr. Adams, my husband."

Keep firmly in your mind that when you are introducing your bridegroom to a woman, relative or friend, you mention first the woman's name. And remember too that when relatives are involved in introductions, the introductions should be Informal; titles ("Mrs," "Miss," "Mr.") should be avoided; first names should be used (with "Aunt," "Uncle," for these special relationships) if they provide enough identification; and use surnames only in cases where there may be a possible later confusion.

Copyright, 1945, King Features Synd., Inc.

'How Do You Do'

Since "How do you do" is always the proper phrase to use when you acknowledge an introduction, an excellent piece of homework is to study how you say these words and to see how you can put into these simple but so-important words a charm and grace that will make them memorable to those to whom you are being introduced. Don't let the words fall flat . . . make them "come alive" by the bright intonation of your voice, by your gracious manner, by your pleasant smile.

MRS. BEECKMAN.

Divorced, but Want to Rewed

DEAR MISS FAIRFAX:
My husband and I are divorced, and he is married again. His mother was the cause of our separation, and now he tells me he doesn't love his wife and never has. His mother planned that move also. My ex-husband found out his wife has been untrue to him since he's been in the service.

He wants to marry me again, and as we really love each other, what would you advise? His wife knows he doesn't love her.

B. S.

If you and your ex-husband have found that your divorce and his re-marriage were a mistake, it is certainly your ex-husband's privilege to go to court and have his marriage dissolved, particularly as you tell me his wife has been unfaithful to him since he's been in the service.

If you decide to remarry, the only sensible thing to do is to move out of the jurisdiction of your meddlesome mother-in-law.

Compile Your Ensemble

By BETTINA BEDWELL

WHILE IT isn't possible to get an ensemble as one unit this fall, it is being made easy for you to compile one if you want to. Many fine designers have made up ensembles of coat and dress and coat and suit. These have to be bought separately.

A favorite ensemble coat this season is the tunic coat, and you can find it around in beautiful editions. One such is the model sketched here. This comes from that big-name designer, Louise Barnes Gallagher, and tomorrow I'm going to show you the dress she designed to go with it. The coat is made of fine wool in soft gray, black and white stripes, which are worked vertically. A small black Persian lamb collar is set around the neck, and big striped buttons fasten the coat down the front. The belt is black.

N. E. Turkey Crop Up 25 P.C.

New England has raised 843,000 turkeys this year, a gain of 25 per cent over 1941, the Boston office of the U. S. Agriculture Department announced today.

The 1944 total was 676,000 in New England.

California leads the nation with 4,942,000 birds, the report showed.

No indication was given of the effect the increased crop would have on Thanksgiving and Christmas.

She walks in beauty who follows the advice Ruth Mugglebee writes every day in the Daily Record.

Death-After-90 Hobbyist Dies, 90

LONDON, Sept. 7 (AP)—Dr. Claude Baker Gabs, a retired physician whose hobby was collecting statistics on the number of persons who liver to be 90 or older, died yesterday—at the age of 90.

Every day for 30 years, Dr. Baker had clipped from the London Times announcements of the deaths of nonagenarians. Each year, on Dec. 31, he wrote to the Times, listing the number of persons over 90 who had died during the past 12 months and his letter always was published. Last year his list contained 480 names.

He reached the conclusion that three times as many women as men live to be 90 and that there are more nonagenarians among clergymen and their widows than any other class.

Beatrice Kay, Clyde Lucas Star

By MARY X. SULLIVAN

Beatrice Kay, the girl who brought the gay nineties up to date, won the hearts of the RKO-Keith Boston fans yesterday in the first performance of a satisfying vaudeville bill.

Wearing a stunning gown, dark brown with lots of glitter, Bea looked very 1946 as she clowned with Clyde Lucas and gave out with a song which lamented her lot, "They Stuck Me With a Bustle," which confessed to an urge to be a red-hot jazz singer instead of a crooner of bustle-day ditties.

The Keith-Boston audience, which is jitterbug by nature, sang "Take Me Out to the Ball Game" lustily with Bea, and left no doubt of their approval of her act. She did "I Don't Care," an oldie introduced by Eva Tanguay in the nineties and now a juke-box favorite; "Put Your Arms Around Me, Honey" and a wonderful ballad called, "Saloon."

Clyde Lucas and his orchestra pleased the K-B patrons mightily with their opening number "Limehouse Blues" and with "Tico Tico." The leader has a modest charm, and his boys play music that is melodious rather than noisy.

Willie Shore, a dancing comedian whose stuff is fresh and very clever, got a rousing hand. Lloyd and Willis are a better than average dance duo, and Jean LaSalle, vocalist with the band, sang a couple of nice numbers.

On the screen is "Radio Stars on Parade."

Gala Howard, Globe Revues

The special Friday night show, starting at 12 o'clock, at the Old Howard will introduce a new burlesque revue with a cast of 60 Bob Ferguson, a comedian, heads the show, and comic Harry Levene and Patricia Joyce, a West Coast burlesque favorite, are featured performers.

At the Globe Burlesque Theater, there will be four shows tomorrow, beginning at 12 o'clock noon, 2:45, 7:15 and 10 p. m. The Sunday night show commences at 12:01 a. m., the program consisting of the current attraction as well as a number of additional acts. George Murray and Harry Lander and Diane Mason, Eileen Hubert and Chickie O'Dell share the comedy and charm among them.

Radianna Heads Casino Revue Stars

Radianna heads the new burlesque revue beginning today at the Casino Theater. Lynn Page, last week's attraction, is being held over. Topping the comedy department are Charley Schultz, Hal Hope, Max Coleman and Harry Stratton.

'Assassin' for Plymouth

"The Assassin," the Irwin Shaw play London saw and applauded last spring, has been booked into the Plymouth Theater for two weeks, beginning Monday night, Oct. 1. Carly Wharton and Martin Gabel, in association with Alfred Bloomingdale, will present this melodrama of intrigue and treachery rampant in Algiers immediately preceding and during the American invasion of North Africa in November of '42.

Playing the title role, as the young Frenchman whose smoking pistol put an end to the double-dealing of a French admiral, is Frank Sundstrom, credited with being Sweden's ablest actor

Honorable Ashes

MANILA, Sept. 7 (INS)—Six thousand of Gen. Tomoyuki Yamashita's troops are going back to Japan—in jars.

Brig. Gen. Robert McBride, commander of the 32d Division, today granted permission to bring jars of ashes of 6000 dead Japs from the mountains for shipment to Japan.

McBride okayed Yamashita's request to let 30 Japs carry out the jars.

Americans Have Short Memories for Atrocities

By AUSTEN LAKE

WE AMERICANS ARE BEING treated to our second spasm of atrocity stories—the Japanese version! Our reaction follows a familiar pattern (1), a wave of hot anger; (2), a diminishing shudder and then (3), the gradual, cold forgetfulness. In a few more months we will purge the ugly memory from our national mind, just as we have expelled the horror over German murder camps like Buchenwald, Belsen, Dachau.

Austen Lake

I've heard many people read news headlines, shrug and say, "I'm sick of atrocity stories!" So am I! I'm sick of writing them! I remember the correspondents with the Third Army saying, "Atrocity stories are a dime a dozen." Sometimes they'd get radios from their editors saying, "Lay off the atrocity stuff." It got so the news writers shunned them as drugs on the reading market—as though horror stuff had outworn the literary trend.

Americans have short memories for past wrongs. Its a virtue in one respect and a vice in another. For we are prone to tumble back in the same traps, as we did after the last world war when we let Europe's Dead End kids run wild until they grew up to be vicious, gun-toting adults who pillaged the world community again. So we formed another national posse, sallied forth at gun point, shot 'em and got shot back—and now promise to let 'em loose again to do it all over! We don't make sound sense!

So here we go again, temporarily furious over the ferocious murders and tortures of the Japs. Our papers scream for guilty heads! Our people holler for retribution! We flare in a white hot fury! And then let our feelings die to a cold ash!

No Delay in Our Own Courts-Martial!

TO DATE OUR CRIMES BOARDS, including the one headed by Supreme Court Justice R. H. Jackson, have tried a scant handful of Nazi war criminals. Of the thousands of lesser fry penned in concentration camps, living in luxury compared with their non-criminal German fellows, few have been arraigned. The trials of Goering, Von Ribbentrop and the Nazi bigwigs have been postponed until November to give them ample time to muster defense. The many thousands of lesser criminals will be tried later, separately and deliberately, while the evidence stales and witnesses disappear. In the end many Nazi sluggers, brutes and killers will be noi-prossed and liberated. It's a badly botched job so far!

But Army records show that we have tried and convicted more than 30,000 U. S. soldiers on general court charges; men who got from several months to 20 years and life. We didn't delay there! The errant soldiers got short shrift and shotgun sentences from courts assembled on brief notice! The Army formed those courts like kids choosing up sides in a back lot ball game! You Joe are the prosecuting Judge Advocate! You Bill are the defense council! Let's go!

So, logic dictates, if we could be so prompt with justice toward our own kind, we can be equally swift in dealing with our enemies! But no! We dawdle, delay and give the German war criminal, both great and small, ample time to frame his defense, procure counsel, study the accusations and coach defense witnesses. By which time the cases grow cold!

But when we tried our own truant, mischievous soldiers, sometimes on mere technicalities, we did so, smacko! While they were still smoking So, on one side the mills of military justice grind rapidly and in crude junks. While on the other they grind slowly and exceedingly small. How come?

It's a morbid reminder. But I refresh your memory on Buchenwald, where there was a shifting prison population of from 35,000 to 50,000 folk. Nothing the Jap did to our captives could be any worse than what the SS did in Buchenwald before we freed it on April 14. That's only four and one-half months ago! Yet no member of that savage jailer-crew has been arraigned to date! The U. S. press and people seldom mention it any more. It is stale stuff!

Let the Army Courts Try 'Em!

THE FIENDISH THINGS THAT the barbarian Japs did to our soldiers, are fresh off the press! They cut off men's heads, burned them with hot irons, fed them polluted food, tortured them with every sadistic device known to hell! So we're mad about that—for a brief time. Yet the infidel Jap did no worse, in the final death toll, than the German.

I assure you it is not humanly possible! For I went into Buchenwald not more than 10 minutes after CCB of the Fourth Armour liberated it and saw it at its gruesome, grisly worst. There were stacks of putrifying bones and half-incinerated flesh piled in a mortifying, half-acre mound and waiting common burial in a big pit. There were skeletons walking around with unfocused eyes and shrunken skins. There were men and women with contagious diseases lying under rags and no medical care. Already we've half-forgotten about that!

I was among the first Americans there and saw the infamous lampshades made of human skins and decorated with tattoos which the wife of the Nazi commandant collected as a hobby. Prison craftsmen, all skilled leather workers and tanners, had made her purses and pocketbooks of the same material. Col. Creighton Abrams of Agawam, Mass., had a full report. Ask him!

The pagan Jap couldn't have done worse than the "civilized, Christian Nazi." Yet we no longer talk or think about that. It's become an old story, dulled by time! So nobody feels angry any more or broods over the thousands of spidery, scurvied, skeletonized U. S. soldiers we found in many other German stalags and whom we nursed back to gradual health in our base hospitals—kids like Cpl. Warren Patterson of 248 Bellevue st., West Roxbury, and Pvt. Sidney Lipson of 39 Tennis rd., Mattapan. Ask them!

The insidious brown runt and the Nazi Nordic beast were cousins under the skin! At the rate of punishment we are traveling they'll die of old age before our crimes commission ever gets around to trying them. I suggest we sic on 'em the same Army courts which gave our own soldiers the once-over-harshly in jig-time justice. That'll fix 'em!

Five School Grid Games In Lynn Stadium Tonight

By MIKE GILLOOLY

Schoolboy football, jumping the gun on a season that may be the biggest in its financial history, will draw close to 18,000 fans to the Manning Bowl, Lynn, for the second annual football jamboree tonight, starting at 8 p. m. Ten schools will participate in the five formal, full-dress scrimmages —which, incidentally, produced Class A (Peabody) and B (Saugus) champions last year.

Dennie Gildea

This session, the brainchild of Coach Bill Joyce of Lynn Classical will be made up of five ball games, each of 15 minutes, duration. Proceeds, after the deduction of expenses, will be turned over to the Lynn Park Department for repairs and improvements on the stadium.

A poll of the schools shows, with slight exception, that none of the coaches have had sufficient time to settle on their teams that will be carrying on throughout the season. For the most part, they've only be practicing two or three weeks. They'll be clearing their benches of their 22 players (that's the limit) to give all a touch of experience.

Here's a thimbleful on each school as it will take the field:

Classical (Coach Joyce)—Three veteran linemen, center Walter Marrama and ends Stan Britton and Duke Jordan . . . an outstanding sophomore back in Harry Agganis, 170 pounds, 6 feet . . . Ray McClorey, g, another fellow with experience.

Beverly (Charlie Walsh)—Veterans include Joe MacDougall, e; Fran Roberts, t; Bob Robinson, qb; Larry Mazzaglia, hb . . . watch-charm guard in Gus Gustafson . . . Paul Desmond and Leo Buckley complete very light backfield.

Lawrence (Mark Devlin)—Capt. Ray Palmigiamo, qb, may be in for a big season . . . he'll find support from backs Roland Belanger, Tom Ruffin and another Callagy, Leonard . . . Dick Lahey at center will bear watching.

Swampscott (Hal Martin)—Veterans include Dick Falkins, e; Charlie Carone, g; Tom Potier, g; Larry McGinn, t; Fred Short, e; Pete Stein, qb; Jack Lee, hb; Bob Queuly, hb . . . soph Bob Bonafest, hb, very good . . . George Grant back at tackle after missing last season with a broken jaw.

Peabody (Bill Seeglitz)—Defending champs are stripped . . . fullback Jack Connolly back as captain . . . soph tackle Ray Potter, 222 pounds, will develop . . . Luke McHugh back at guard . . . Mike Karakalis, 204 pounds, on other guard . . . the rest of the team is light.

Gloucester (Arne Frigaard)—Co-Capt. Al Destino still out as result of injury in opener last year . . . so the backfield will be green . . . Co-Capt. Ed Re, 180 pounds, at tackle . . . Gene MacDonald moving out from tackle to end . . . no practice field as new stadium will be dedicated against Melrose.

Everett (Dennie Gildea)—Another Romboli (Chick) in backfield . . . another strong Gildea line . . . veterans Bill Ringdahl, t. Bill Vesprini, c, Dom Liotta, g, and Dick Giardani, e . . . Sam DiAgostini returning to fullback . . . Dennie could use the Vocational school boys.

Saugus (Dave Lucey)—Another power . . . Capt. Bruce Waybright at fb and Cliff Harris (Saugus' Albie Booth) at hb . . . George Winters and Jim Blondell veteran ends . . . George Miles back at a guard.

Lynn English (Nick Morris)—Five regulars back in the line . . . Marty Smith, John Hennessey, e; Ruby Jules, Jack Jacowitz, g; Herb Smallwood, c . . . Bob Bolger at fullback, a co-captain and veteran . . . soph star in Dick Cahill, hb.

Grid Card Tonight

First game starts at 8 p. m.
Lynn Classical vs. Beverly.
Lawrence vs. Swampscott.
Peabody vs. Gloucester.
Everett vs. Saugus.
Lynn English vs. Revere.

Judge Asks Quick Durocher Trial

NEW YORK, Sept. 7 (INS)—Leo Durocher, manager of the Dodgers, was silent today as he appeared before Kings County Judge Samuel Leibowitz to plead not guilty to a charge of second degree assault.

His co-defendant, Joseph Moore, 50, special policeman at Ebbets Field, Brooklyn, also pleaded innocent to the indictment accusing them of beating up a spectator at a night game June 9.

They were continued in $1000 bail each, with the possibility of going on trial within two weeks. This was at the suggestion of Judge Leibowitz, who said he wanted a speedy trial.

Dodds, Harrier Coach, May Compete Again

CHICAGO, Sept. 7 (AP)—Gil Dodds, famous miler, is to coach cross country at Wheaton College this fall, athletic director Corey said today.

Dodds is doing graduate work at Wheaton. Corey said Dodds has not given up the idea of competing in track.

150 DOGS IN "ALL" TRIALS

GAINSBOROUGH, Sask., Sept. 7 (AP)—American fanciers are expected to enter about 150 bird dogs—both pointers and setters—in the all-American field trials to be held here next week.

Schmeling's Ambition Squelched by British

By JACK CONWAY

Max Schmeling, held by the British forces in Hamburg for a violation of a military rule, once aspired to become head of the Nazi physical education program. This position was Schmeling's goal after he knocked out Joe Louis in 11 rounds in their first bout.

As a former heavyweight champion of the world and hopeful at the time of regaining his title Schmeling felt that he was better fitted than anyone else to teach the youth of Germany how to get into the best possible physical condition. Schmeling's recent request to the Allied authorities to be permitted to write a book for the youth of Germany proved he is still interested in becoming a leader in Germany on matters of physical fitness.

Max Schmeling

Schmeling was high in the favor of Adolph Hitler when he knocked out Louis. Following the bout this writer visited Schmeling in his suite at the Commodore Hotel, New York. Joe Jacobs ushered me through the living room of the suite into a bedroom where Schmeling was talking over the trans-Atlantic telephone with his actress wife in Berlin. "I have just been talking with Mrs. Schmeling," Max said to me a few more minutes later. "She told me that Hitler had called her on the telephone, congratulated her on my victory over Louis."

Schmeling talked of his winning bout with Louis and his hopes of regaining the championship he lost to Jack Sharkey. There was talk at the time that Hitler was going to create a position as head of physical education in Germany. Schmeling was anxious to gain that post.

Schmeling Trained Hard

Schmeling like most German athletes trained hard and faithfully. I saw him train for many of his bouts in the United States. He would usually pick a training camp far from the bright lights of New York city. Max would always secure a private cottage for himself. The cottage would usually be located some distance from his main camp. He did not wish to have his rest broken by the chatter of sparring partners and by sports writers who might visit his camp.

Joe Jacobs would remain at the main camp and he would take charge of all merrymaking. In the early hours of the morning Joe would usually take over the direction of an orchestra and lead the sports writers and camp followers in vocal numbers. Jacobs liked life as much as Schmeling ran away from it.

New York State Police guarded Schmeling's cottage from possible prowlers. Max fought in the days when a huge kidnap ring was active in New York. Sports celebrities were often kidnaped and held for $25,000 to $50,000 in ransom. Bookmakers were among the chief victims of the ring which was headed by Vincent Coll, notorious killer who was later shot to death by gangsters as he dropped a nickel into a telephone slot in a phone booth. Schmeling's management realized he would have been a rare prize for the kidnapers.

Max also had his private chef so he could have his favorite German meals and also eliminate the possibility of drugs being dropped into his food just before a bout. With all these safeguards thrown around him Schmeling worked hard in his training camp. He always was in the best possible condition when he entered the ring.

Schmeling earned $1,000,000 in the United States. As Hitler rose to power, Schmeling invested his earnings in Hamburg real estate while he kept his cash in banks in Switzerland. "When Hitler became supreme in Germany," Max said, "I was ordered to move my cash into the government banks in Germany. If I had not done so I would have lost my apartment property and also my liberty, so I accepted the order."

It is not believed that the Allied forces will permit Schmeling to revive any of his youth training activities. "I once tried to persuade Schmeling to become an American citizen," Commander Jack Dempsey told me. "I felt at the time that a Germany ruled by Hitler was certain to come to grief. Schmeling was a Nazi at heart and he rejected my suggestion and returned to Germany."

Braves Tear Into Cards Tonight

ST. LOUIS, Sept. 7—Although the Cards are in close pursuit of the pace making Chicago Cubs they still have accounts to settle with the Boston Braves, which promises no easy task for the champs.

Tonight the Cards and Braves are billed for another game and the Boston club will use Al Javery in an effort to impede the Cubs' dash.

The Braves forced the Cards to an even break in last night's twin bill. Tommy Holmes resumed his old hitting pace and helped materially in the Braves' 9 to 1 win. Carden Gillenwater also had a great night.
